ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

PART I .- INTRODUCTION .

Lesson 1

Q. What is Language?

A. Language consists of articulate or spoken sounds which express thoughts.

Q. From whence is the word derived?

A. The term language is from the Latin lingua, tonque, hence we say our mother tongue, or language.

Q. What is GRAHMAR?

by which we express thought in correct language. The word is from the Greek gramma a letter.

A. The rules of grammar are I from old practice, and comparison of the writings of the best authors. int the language t that it we can speak our own language, it is necessary to I learn't grammar?

A. From habit we often use many unsuitable words. and incorrect modes of speech; and as dialects differ from the standard in various parts of the t country, it is therefore requisite to learn grammar.

O. What are the divisions of grammar?

A. Grammar is usually divided into four parts: ORTHOGRAPHY, ETYMOLOGY, SYNTAX and PROSODY.

Q. Of what do these branches chiefly treat?

A. Orthography treats principally of Letters; Etymology of Words; Syntax of Sentences; Prosody of Pronunciation.

PART II. - ORTHOGRAPHY

Lesson 2.

Q. What is ORTHOGRAPHY.

A. The term Orthography is derived from the Greek orthos, correct, and grapho, I write, — and treats of letters, and their use in the spelling of words.

Q. How many letters are there?

A. There are twenty-six letters in English. They are ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ-abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz.

Q. What are the large letters called?

A. The large letters are called Capitals, from the Latin caput, the head, because they are used at the head or beginning of sentences, and to begin the names of persons, places, months, and years.

Q. What are the letters taken together called?

A. The letters altogether are called the Alphabet, from Alpha Beta, the first two letters of the Greek alphabet, just as we say the A B C.

Q. How many kinds of letters are there?

A. There are two kinds of letters, Vowels and Consonants.

Q. Which of the letters are called Vowels?

A. The letters u, e, i, o, u, are called Vowels from the Latin vocalis, sounding, because they can be sounded by themselves.

Q. Which are Consonants?

A. All the other letters are consonants, and are so called from the Latin con, together, sonare, to sound, because they can only be sounded together with a vowel.

Q. Have you any thing to observe with respect to w and y?

A. W. when in the same syllable it follows a vowel and y, when it does not begin a syllable, are vowels, as in the words dew and try.

Lesson 3.

Q. What is a Diphthong?

A. A Diphthong is two vowels placed together, and sounded almost as one, from the Greek dis, double, phthongos, sound.

Q. Which are they?

ou, as in the words feud, soil, and sound.

Q. What is a syllable?

A. A syllable consists of one or more letters taken together, which can be distinctly sounded at once, as a. an, red, flow, &c. The word syllable is derived from sun. with labein, to take.

Q. Can there be a syllable without a vowel?

A. There cannot be a syllable without a vowel; thus the letters c p, or, s r, require two distinct motions of the mouth to sound them, but when I place a vowel with them, as cap, sir, I can pronounce them at once.

Q. Of what are words composed?

A. Words are composed of one or more syllables.

Q. How are sentence formed?

A. Words placed together so as to give a complete meaning are called sentences.

SOUNDS OF LETTERS-VOWELS .

Lesson. 4.

- Q. What have you further to say respecting vowels?
- A. The vowel a has four principal sounds.
- Q. What are they?
- A. In fate, it has the long sound of a; in far it is sounded ah; in fall, as au; and in fat, it has the short sound of a.
 - Q. What are its other sounds?
- u, in custard.
 - Q. What are the sounds of e?
- A. The vowel e has three sounds; long, as in we; short, as in wet; sometimes a, as in prey.
 - Q. How many sounds has i?
- A. There are four sounds to the vowel i; long, as in wine; short, as in win; like e long as in pique; and like u short as in bird,
 - Q. What are the sounds of o?
- A. There are three chief sounds to o, long and short, as in hope, hop, and like oo, as in lose.
 - Q. What sounds has the letter u?
- A. The vowel u has four sounds: like oo as in rude; eu as in duke; short and close, as in push and shorter still, as in nut.

CONSONANTS WITH VARIED SOUNDS.

Lesson 5.

- Q. Name some of the other letters with more than one sound.
- A. The consonant c is pronounced hard, or with the sound of k, before a, o, and u, and before all the consonants except h: thus call, cot, cut, clash, &c.
 - Q. When is it pronounced differently?
- A. C is soft, or like s, before e, i, æ, y, thus, cell, cindder, Cæsar, cypher

- Q. What other sounds?
- A. C. has also the sound of ts. thus, child is pronounced tshild; but in words from the Greek, ch is sounded as k. thus, chemist, echo.
- Q. Is not g also changeable?
- A. The letter g has generally the sound of j before e and i, as in George and giant, but not always:
 in get, give, and others, it is hard.
 - Q. When is g always hard?
- A. G is always hard before the vowels a: o. u, and the consonants l and r, as game, got, gun, glad, grow; before n, g is not sounded, as in gnaw.
 - Q. Give the sounds, of q?
- A. The letter q is generally sounded as kw, as in quarter, sometimes gu as k, thus, conquer.
 - Q. Has the letter s two sounds?
- A. Yes: the letter s is sharp as in sing, but often that like z at the end of a word, as sings; and before e or y final, as rose, rosy.

REDUNDANT AND DEFICIENT LETTERS

Lesson 6.

- Q. Mention some further particulars with regard to consonants.
- A. There are some consonants which are useless) that is I which we could really do without —these are c, j, q, and x.
 - Q. How should we spell without c?
 - A. We might use k for c hard, or s for c soft thus, kurd expresses just the same sound as curd, and sinder as cinder.
 - Q. What letter might we use instead of j?
 - A. G soft, or dsh might be substituted for j. times jelly would be gelly or dshelly.
 - Q. Could we do without q?
 - A. In all cases we might use kw for q, as, queen might be spelt kween.
 - Q. Why might x be omitted?

A. The letters ks would supply the place of x, as, Essex. Esseks.

Q. Are there not some sounds in the language for which we have no letter?

A. Letters are wanted to express the simple sounds of ch, sh, zu, th, dth, ng, in such words as church, shine, asure, throng, there, and ring.

Q. Are there letters in other langauges to express these sounds?

A. Some languages have letters to represent these sounds, as the Greek letter theta has the same sound as the two letters th in English. Similar characters occur also in the old Anglo-Saxon alphabet.

ON SPELLING .

Lesson 7.

Q. Did you not say that one branch of Orthography is correct spelling?

A. Orthography treats principally of correct spelling.

Q. How is it that many persons spell incorrectly?

A. Many persons write by ear, instead of by eye; the eye sees the word, but does not observe accurately the letters of which it is composed, hence the spelling is from the sound of the word.

Q. Are there not difficulties in spelling?

A. There are difficulties in spelling many English words correctly, on account of the different sounds represented by the same letters, as, slanhhter laughter, dough, plough, through, tough, &c.; and also because pifferent letters are made to give the same sound, as, peace, niece, fleece; peal, peel; her, sir, cur, &c.

O: How is the art of correct spelling to be acquired?

A. The art of spelling correctly must be acquired by careful observation during reading, and by frequent practice in writing

Q. There are some common words often improperly used for others of a similar sound. To guard against, error, learn correctly the following examples, by spelling the words printed in italics—As far as he has gone. He is gone to his desk.—They went there to see their dog.—A part of the cover came off.—Where were you?—What did you wear in the ware-house, and in crossing the weir?—You ask me whether it is fine weather, and if I have seen your wether.

PART III:-ETYMOLOGY

Lesson 8.

Q. What does Etymology treat of?

A. Etymology relates principally to words in their origin and in their variation.

Q. Whence is the word Etymology derived?

A. The word is from the Greek etumos, true, logos, word, or discourse.

Q. How many kinds of words are there?

A. In English there are eight sorts of words,— Nouns, Verbs, Adjectives, Pronouns, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and Interjections.

NOUN .

Lesson 9.

Q. What is a Noun?

A. A Noun, from the Latin word nomen, name, is the name of persons, places, things, qualities, or principles.

Q. Describe this further.

A. The name of everything we can see or think of as existing is a noun, and those nouns which refer to quality or principle are called Abstract Nouns, as brightness, beauty.

Q. What is the other division of nouns?

A. The names of things which we can see are called Proper or Common nouns.

Q. Why are they so called?

A. Proper nouns denote particular persons or places, as Roger. China; common nouns refer to the common name of a kind, as a cow, a chair; thus every cow is called a cow, every chair a chair.

Q. How may nouns generally be known?

A. Nouns generally make sense with a. an, or the before them, as a knife, an anchorf the bell, a virtue, or with an adjective, as good knife, great virtue; thus there is no sense in an into, a since, or the have, &c. because these words are not nouns.

VERB .

Lesson 10.

Q. What is a Verb?

word that asserts, commands, or asks as I will; run fast; may I go? &c.

Q. Give me another meaning of a verb?

A. A verb indicates that persons or things do something, or are something, or have something done to them; as I strike,—you are hurt,—he is flogged.

Q How can you know a verb ?

A. I know a verb simply by placing I or to before it. as, I read, to walk, &c = Here read and walk are verbs. There is no sense in —I apple, or to inkstand, as these are not verbs.

Q. How are verbs divided?

A. Verbs are divided into Transitive and Intransi-

Q. What is a Transitive verb?

to pass over, is a verb the action of which passes over from the noun or pronoun which precedes, to that which follows it.

Q. What is an Intransitive verb?

A. An Intransitive verb is one in which the action does not pass over to an object, but conveys a complete meaning in itself.

Q. Give an example of a transitive verb?

A. When I say—Roger gathered—the verb is transitive, because I have no completed meaning in the verb gathered; but if I say—loger gathered the grapes—then the action passing over to the object grapes, completes the sense in which the verb is to be understood.

. Q. Explain the intransitive verb?

A. In I walk, John steeps—the meaning is complete without an object for the verb to pass to; these are, therfore, intransitive verbs.

ADJECTIVE .

Lesson 11.

Q. What is an Adjective?

A. An Adjective is a word which denotes a quality in natural objects, or in personal acquirements or endowments; as—a lovely landscape, a great orator.

Q. Why is it called an adjective? "

A. The word adjective is from the Latin words ad, to, and jactus, placed, because it is placed to or before a noun.

Q. How may adjectives be known?

when prefixed to a moun, thus, if I taker the word clever, I know it to be an adjective, because it makes sense with the substantive boy as—a clever boy.

Q. May adjectives be formed from nouns?

A. Adjectives may be formed from nouns by the addition of y, ly, ful, less ish, as windy, snowy, manly, heavenly, hopeful, fearful, lifeless, hopeless, foolish, childish, &c.

るかままではままれていたいと

PRONOUN .

Lesson 12

Q. What is a Pronoun?

A. A Pronoun is a word used in place of a noun, and is so called from the Latin pro. for and nomen.

name or noun. as - you are good. Here I use the word you instead of the name of the person addressed.

Q. Give me some exemples.

A. The words he and his are pronouns in — Robert went to his garden, and there he saw his flowers and are used instead of saying — Robert went to Robert's garden, and there Robert saw Robert's flowers.

ADVERB .

Lesson 13.

Q. What is an Adverb?

A. An Adverb is a word that shows manner, situation, quantity, time or affirmation and denial; as, I write well,—you go there.—he brought more.—you came. late,—yes, no, &c. (See pages 61-62 Appendix.)

Q. Why is it so named?

A. It is called adverb from the Latin ad, to, and verbum, word or verb, because it; is generally joined to a verb, as may be seen in the examples just given, where the adverbs follow the verbs write, go, brought, and came.

Q. How may they usually be known?

Ast, Adverbs may be known by their generally ending in by, as truly, vastly, &c., but all words ending in by are not adverbs.

Q. Are they not used instead of a longer mode of expression?

A. Yes: an adverb generally supplies the place of two or more words: always means at all times, there signifies in that place, thrice is used instead of three times, &c.

PREPORITION, CONJUNCTION, INTERJECTION

Lesson 14.

Q. What is a Preposition?

A. Preposition is a word usually placed before nouns, and is derived from the Latin præ, before, and positus, placed.

O. Why is it so placed?

with other words in the sentences; as-I looked at the sun; I went through the gate. &c.

Q. What is a Commenction?

A. A Conjunction, from the Latin con, together, junctus, a joining, is a word which joins sentences together as—Victor and Charles were there.—Will you read or play?

Q. What is an Interjection?

A. An Intersection is a word which expresses excited feeling, as-hurrah! oh! dear me!

Q. Why is it so called?

A. It is named interjection from the Latim inter, between, and jacere, to throw, because it is a word, as it were, thrown in suddenly.

EXERCISES ON THE PARTS OF SPEECH.

Lesson 15.

Q. Why is the word counterfeit a noun in the following sentence?—This is not good coin, but a bad counterfeit.

A. I can say a counterfeit, or the counterfeit; and besides, it makes sense with the adjective bad before it.

Q. Why is counterfeit a verb in the following?—I shall counterfeit sorrow.

Because it asserts,—because it tells that I am doing something; and because I can say—I counterfeit,

Q. Why is counterfeit an adjective in this sentence?

-Yours is only counterfeit praise.

A. Because I use 'it before the noun praise, of which it tells the kind or quality.

Q. Why are you and your pronouns in the phrase

- Gustavus, will you learn your lesson ??

A. Because I use them for the noun Gustavus instead of saying—Gustavus, will Gustavus learn Gustavus' lesson?

this sentence? You have come here together too; ear-

A, Because here marks situation, together shews manner, too denotes quantity, and early speaks of time.

Q. Why are into, among, up, and for prepositions in—George is going into the copse, amony the bushes and up the bill, for his own pleasure.

A. Because they shew the relation between George's going and the nouns to which they are pre-flxed.

Q. Why are and also, if, and because communions in the following sentence?—John and Sam will go, also the other boys, if they can, because it is fine.

A. Because they simply connect the different parts of the sentence.

Q. Why are hurrah ! and bravo! alas! and oh! interjections in—Hurrah for a holiday.—Bravo my boys—Alas!—Dear me!—Oh!

A. Because they are sudden exclamations expressive of joy, of sorrow, or surprise.

PART IV .- INFLECTION OR VARIATION

Lesson 16.

Q. What is inflection ? -

A: A change made in a word is called an inflection, which is derived from the Latin inflectio, a change.

Q. Give me someT examples.

A. In the word folios the inflection is from folio in walked it is varied from walk.

Q. How many of the parts of speech are capable

A. The parts of speech capable of inflection are the Noun, the Adjective, the Pronoun, the Verb, and the Adverb. These are also called declinable.

Q. Why so?

A. They are called declinable from the Latin declinatio, a declension, or turning aside; because they are, as it were, turned aside from their original form.

INFLECTION OF NOUNS. -NUMBER.

Lesson 17.

Q. How are Nouns declined?

A. Nouns are declined by Number, Gender, and Case.

Q. What is number?

A. Number means whether one or more than one is spoken of.

Q. When we speak of one what number is it called?

A. When one only is mentioned the number is single gular from the Latin singulus, each or single, as—a chair, a picture.

Q. What is the other number?

A. When more than one is named, the number is plural, from the Latin plura, more, as—chairs, pictures.

Q. How is the plural formed?

A. The plural is generally formed by adding s to the singular, as—one vine, two or three vines.

Q. Is the plural always, formed by adding s.?

A. No: there are many variations from this rule.

Q. Give me some of the other rules for forming the plural?

A. The plural of nouns ending in ch. sh, ss, x, and o after a consonant generally have es instead of s, as, bunch, bunches; wish, wishes, Miss, Misses; fox.

foxes; hero, heroes. Except a few? as canto cantos; quarto, quartos; or when ch is pronounced like k, as patriarch, patriarchs.

PLUBAL OF NOUNS

Lesson 18,

Q. Give me another rule for the plural of nouns?

A. Nouns ending in f or fe, form their plural by changing the singular into ves, as knife, knives; half, halves.

Q. Another rule?

A. Nouns ending with y, and which have no vowel before the y. make the plural by ies, as berry, berries; but when there is a vowel before the y, as ay. ey, oy, uy, it follows the general rule and adus only s, as bay, bays; key, keys; boy, boys; guy, guys; &c.

Q. Give me some examples of nouns which have en in the plural?

A. These nouns retain the Anglo-Saxon plural en; man, men; woman, women; ox, oxen; child, children; in some places, house, housen; shoe, shoon.

Q. How do words adopted from other languages form their plural?

A. Nouns from the ancient and foreign languages form their plural generally as in the original, thus—singular, medium, plural, media.

Lesson 19.

Q. What have you to say of the plural of some other, nouns?

A. Some common words vary their plural in a manner different from any one of the former rules, as —foot, feet; tooth, teeth; goose, geese; mouse, mice; penny, pence.

* See page 59, Appendix.

Q. Have any nouns two forms for the plural?

A. Yes: there are two plurals for the following nouns:-

Brother | Brothers—of a family.
Brothren—of a community.

Cie | Dice—for gambling.
Dies—stamps for coining.

Genius | Genii—imaginary beings.
Geniuses—clever persons.

Index | Indexes—tables of reference.
Indices—signs in algebra.

Q. ZSpellz the plural of time, larch, brush, glass, box staff, life, cherry, chimney, tray, and toy?

A. Times, larches, brushes, glasses, boxes, staves lives, cherries, trays, toys.

GENDER .

Lesson 20.

Q. What is meant by Gender?

A. Gender means whether animals or things are male? Genus, or of neither sex. The word is from the Latin Genus, a race or sex.

Q What are the three genders called?

A. The genders are called MASCULINE, from the Latin masculus, a male; Feminine, from femina, a female; Neuter, from neuter, neither.

Q. Or what gender are nouns called which are applied boths to male or female?

A. Nouns which refer to either sex are called of the common gender; as the one word bird or servant may be used for both sexes.

Q. How is the difference of gender shewn?

A. Difference of gender is shewn by three methods. First, by a word prefixed, as—man-servant, woman-servant—he-goat, she-goat. Secondly, by a complete change in the word as—brother, Sister—ram, ewe. Thirdly, by a different termination—as heir, heiress—governor, governess—and others.

CASE .

Lesson 21.

Q. What is Case?

A. Case is that relation which a noun has to the parts of the sentence in which it is placed.

Q. What is the origin of the term?

A. It is from the Latin casus, a fall; because the nouns in that language, when varied, were said to have fallen from their simple form.

Q. How many cases have nouns?

A. There are three cases—the Nominative, the Objective, and the Possessive.

Q. What is the Nominative case?

A. That noun which comes before a verb, is called nominative, from the Latin nomen, name, because it names the person doing any thing; as—Maria loves; here Maria is in the nominative case.

Q. What is the Objective case?

A. The noun which tollows the verb, and is the object upon which it acts is called the objective case, as—Maria loves Margaret; here Margaret is the object acted upon by the verb, and is the objective case.

Q. Do you know the objective case in any other way ?

A. The objective case also follows prepositions, as—
I went with Walter; Walter is the objective case, because it follows the preposition with.

Q. How may the Possessive case be known?

A. The possessive case is known by its ending in s. as—William's book; which is just the same as saying—the book of William.

Lesson 22.

Q. Why is the Nominative case so called?

A. The Nominative case is so called because it names or nominates the person or thing which does something. Q. Why is the Objective case so called?

A. The Objective case is so named because it refers.
to the object acted upon.

Q. Why is the Possessive case so named?

A. The Possessive case denotes possession, hence its-

Q. Decline the nouns child and boy?

	orny.	I cui.
A. Nom.	Child.	Children
Obj.	Child .	Children
Poss.	Child's.	Children
Nom .	Bov.	Boys.
Obj.	Boy.	Boys.
Poss	Boy's.	Boys'.

Q. Why is s added in the possessive plural of child and not in that of boy?

A. Words that end in s in the plural would sound unpleasantly with the addition of another s, as—the boys's booke,—therefore it is omitted.

Q. How may the nominative case be known by, another way as well as by its coming before the verb?

A. By asking the question - who or what with the verb. the answer will be the nominative case.

Q. How may the objective case be known?

A. The answer to the question whom or what with, the verb will be the objective case.

Q. How may the possessive case be known?

A. By answering the question whose, taken with the objective we have the possessive case.

Q. Explain this to me in the following example -- Johnny rides his nucle's pony. Who rides?

A. Johnny: then Johnny is the nominative, because it answers the question — who? with the verb rides.

Q. What does he ride?

A. The pony: thus pony is the objective case as it answers the question — what?

Q. Whose pony?

A. His uncle's; then uncle's is possessive, because the answers the question—whose?

RINDS OF ADJECTIVES .

Lesson 24.

COMPARISON.

INFLECTION OF ADJECTIVE.

Lesson 23.

Q. Are adjectives inflected like nouns with case and number?

A. Adjectives are not declined in English, as they are in Latin, except the adjectives this, that, and other

Q. How then are adjectives varied?

A. Adjectives are varied by Comparison.

Q. What do you mean by this?

A. Comparison means comparing the different degrees which exist in the quality spoken of.

Q. What are these called?

A. The degrees are Positive, Comparative, and Superlative.

Q. What is the positive degree?

A. That which speaks positively concerning a noun; thus—a tall man the word tall is positive.

Q. What is the comparative?

A. That which compares, as — a taller man — here taller is comparative, compared with some other man.

Q. What is the superlative?

A. That which expresses the highest degree or quality; as — the tallest man — in this, tallest is the superlative.

Q. How are these degrees of comparison formed?

A. Words of one or two syllables ending in a consonant form the comparative by adding er, and the superlative by adding est to the positive; as small, smaller, smallest.

Q. In what other way?

A. The comparison of some adjectives is made by an entirely different form; as good, better, best.

Q. Give me a third method?

A. Words of three or more syllables are generally compared by prefixing the adverbs, more and most as bounteous, more bounteous, most bounteous.

Q. How many kinds of adjectives are there?

A. There are three kinds of adjectives. Demonstrative, Numeral, and General.

Q. Which are the Demonstrative Adjectives?

A. The Demonstrative Adjectives are this and that.

Q. Why are they so called?

A. They are called Demonstrative because they demonstrate, or point out the nouns to which they belong; as—this desk, that stool? The word is from the Latin demonstrare, to shew or point out.

Q. What are Numeral Adjectives?

A. From the Latin numerare, to number; they express both number and quantity.

Q. How many kinds are there?

A There are two kinds of numeral adjectives, the Definite and the Indefinite.

Q. What are the Definite Numerals?

A. Those which point out particular or definite numbers, as — one, two, three, four, and so on, are called definite numerals.

Q. What are Indefinite Numerals?

A. Those which do not refer to any particular number or quantity, as — more, some, any, &c., are called indefinite numeral adjectives.

Q. Is there any other division of definite numerals?

A. Definite numerals are further divided into Cardinal and Ordinal.

Q. What are the Cardinal?

A. The Cardinal numbers are such as answer to the question, how many? as—one, two. three, four. five, six. seven, &c., from the Latin cardinalis, principal or chief.

Q. What are the ordinal numbers?

A. Those which denote the order and rank in a series, as - first, second, third, fourth, fifth, &c., from the Latin ordinaire, to arrange in rank. These are called ordinal numerals.

- Q. Which are the Indefinite?
- A. The indefinite numeral adjectives are each, every, either, neither, many, much, few, several, all, no, more, some, any, enough, other, another, and only.
 - Q. What are General adjectives?
- A. All adjectives which are not demonstrative or numeral may be termed general adjectives.
 - Q. Decline the adjectives, this, that, and other?

Sing. Plur. Sing. Plur.
This. These. Nom. Other. Others.
That. Those. Poss. Other's. Others'.

THE ARTICLES.

Lesson 25.

- an and the?
- A. The little words an and the, although they are usually considered as separate parts of speech, and called Articles, are in reality adjectives.
 - Q. How is this?
- A. The word an originally signified one, and even now expresses the same as the numeral adjective one.

 The is equivalent to that, a demonstrative adjective.
- Q. What parts of speech ought these words therefore to be called?
- A. The should be called a demonstrative adjective, because when I use the expression,—Take the orange, I domonstrate the particular orange which I wish should be taken. An is an indefinite numeral: thus, if I say—Take an orange, I do not define or point out a particular orange.
- Q. Is there any rule to be observed with respect to the word an?
- A. An is used before words beginning with a vowel, as—an owl; n is omitted and a only used before con sonants, before words beginning with h, and before the vowel u long, as -a cloud, a heap, a union.

- Q. Is there any exception to this?
- A. This rule is not without exception, because in some words from the Latin the letter h is not sounded, and they may therefore be said to begin with vowels.
 - Q. Which are these words?
- A. In honest, humble, hospital and hour,
 Herb, humour, honour, heir, h has no power.
 On this account 'tis needful to take care,
 Before this words we always place an there.

INFLECTION OF ADJECTIVES .

Lesson 26.

- Q. Have you anything further to observe respecting adjectives?
- A. Many adjectives do not admit of degrees of comparison, such as all, every, several, some, &c; nor can the numeral adjectives be increased in signification: thus, we cannot rightly say more all, nor most three, &c; nor ought we to say more perfect, as perfect implies completeness.

INFLECTION OF PRONOUNS.

- Q. How many kinds of Pronouns are there?
- A. There are two sorts of pronouns, personal and relative.
 - Q. What are personal pronouns?
- A. personal pronouns are those which are used instead of the names of persons, as -I, you, he, we, they, &c.
 - Q. Are pronouns declined?
- A. Pronouns are declined with person, and with number, gender, and case, in common with the nouns for which they are used.
 - Q. What is meant by person, as applied to pronouns?
 - A. The pronoun used instead of the name of the person who speaks, is called of the first person; thus — I speak, — here I, is the first person.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR.

Q. What is the second person?

A. You or thou is used instead of the name of the person spoken to, and is called the second person; as — I speak to you. In this case you is the second person.

Q. What is the third person?

A. He is used instead of the noun which denotes the person spoken of, and is called the third person of the pronoun; as—I speak to you, and he hears. Here he is third person.

NUMBER AND GENDER OF PRONOUNS

Lesson 27.

Q. How is the number of personal pronouns expres-

A. The number of personal pronouns is denoted not as in nouns, by a change of termination, but by a different word; as—I, plural we; thou, plural you; he, plural they.

Q. How is the gender of pronouns shewn?

A. The first and second persons have no change to express different gender, as I and thou, we, and you, may be applied either to male or female; but in the third person we have he masculine, she feminine, and it neuter

CASE OF PRONOUNS.

Lesson 28.

Q. Is there any distinction by which the case of a personal pronoun can be told,?

A. Yes; a different word is used to express the case of a personal pronoun; as -I is nominative, me objective, mine possessive.

Q. Will you decline the personal pronouns in the singular number?

		SINGULAR	NUMBER.	Obj.	Poss.
A. First Per	son		I.	Me.	My. Mine.
Second Person			You.	You.	Your. Yours.
	Masc .	Gender	He.	Him.	His.
Third Person	Fem .	Gender	She.	Her	Her. Hers

A. First Per	son		We.	Us.	Our.
Second Person	SERVE .		You.	You.	Yours.
Third Person	The second second	Gender Gender Gender	They They They	Them.	Their.

Q. What is the use of two different words in the possessive case of some of these pronouns; as — my and mine, our, ours, &c.?

A. One form is used when the possessive is followed by a noun, as this is our book; the other when the noun precedes the pronoun, or is omitted; as—this book is ours; this is ours.

Q. Do we not sometimes use another word instead of you for the second person singular?

A. Yes: thou was formerly used instead of you. as may be seen in Scripture; and it is still used in addressing the Deity, also frequently in poetry, and generally by Quakers. You is always used in ordinary speaking or writing.

Q. Decline the personal pronoun thou?

SINGULAR NUMBER.

RELATIVE PRONOUNS .

A Farst Porson

Lesson 29.

Q. What is a Relative pronoun?

A. A Relative Pronoun is one which refers or relates to a noun, or a sentence going before, which is named its antecedent.

Q. From what is it named antecedent?

A. It is called antecedent from the Latin ante, before, and cedere, to go; thus, in the sentence—The hoy who talked—who is the relative pronoun, and boy the antecedent.

Q. How many relative pronouns are there?

A. There are three relative pronouns who, which, and that.

Q. How are they used?

A. Who is only used when we speak of persons, as—the boy who laughed. Which is applied either to animals or things, as—the lion which roars; the flowers which fade. That may be used indiscriminately, as—the girl that sung; the grass that grew; the dog that I lost.

Q. How is the relative pronoun who declined;

A. In the relative who, no difference is made to express gender or number, but the case is varied thus:

Nom. Obj. Poss.

Who. Whom. Whose.

Q. Decline the relative pronoun which?

Nom. Obj. Poss.

A. Which. Whose.

The pronoun that is not declined.

INFLECTION OF VERBS.

PERSON AND NUMBER:

Lesson 30.

Q. What are the various kinds of verbs?

A. Verbs are said to be either Transitive or Intransitive, Active or Passive, Regular, Irregular, and Defective.

Q. How are verbs varied?

A. Verbs are inflected or changed in termination to express person, number, and time.

Q. Explain what is meant by person in connexion with verbs?

A. Verbs, in common with pronouns, have three persons, as—I talk, thou talkest, he talks, Here talk is the first person, talkest second, and talks third.

Q. What have you to observe respecting one of the persons of verbs?

A. The second person plural of verbs, as well as of pronouns, is almost always used instead of the second person singular, as—you talk—instead of—thou talkest.

Q. Is it right so to use the verb?

A. In consequence of the general use of the second person plural, in place of the old form of the singular, we consider it now as being really a definite singular, as well as a plural form, and as such we use it.

Q. In what cases is it proper to retain the singuler?

A. Generally in poetry, and always in our addresses to the Deity, the original singular form must be used.

Q. What are the numbers of verbs?

A. The numbers of verbs are the same as of substantives, singular and plural, as—thou lovest, ye love.

Lovest is second person, singular number, and love is second person plural.

Q. What is the verb called in its simple form?

A. The verb in its simple form is called the infinitive, from the Latin infinitives, without limit, because it has no restriction of number or person, but expresses a general condition, as — advise, or, to advise.

Q. Has it any other signification?

A. With the prefix to, the infinitive often becomes noun, as — to advise me was kind.

Q. What other form has the verb?

A. The verb in one of its simple forms is called the imperative. from imperare, to command, as - advise him

ON TENSE .

Lesson 31.

Q. What is meant by the tense of a verb?

A. The tense of a verb is the time to which it refers,

Q. Under how many forms or periods can we think of time?

A. We can think of three periods of time-time gone by, time existing now, and time to come.

Q. What names do we give to these periods of time?

A. We distinguish these periods of time as—the past, the present, and the future.

Q. How are these times or tenses in which the verb acts expressed?

A The past tense of a verb is formed by a change in the termination of the present tense; as — from I love, the present tense, is formed I loved, the past tense.

Q. How is the future tense formed?

A. The future tense of a verb is not formed by inflection, but by the addition of another verb, shall or will; thus, there are in reality only two tenses in English formed by inflection, the present and pust.

Q. Is it so in all languages?

A. This is not the case in all languages, as in Latin, for instance, we have various forms of words to express the different times and relations of verbs.

Q. Give me some examples.

A. Rego, I rule. Regerem, I might rule.

Rexi, I ruled. Rexerim, I should have ruled.

Regam, I shall rule. Rexissem, I would have ruled.

These are truly tenses formed by inflection, but in English we have only the past tense so formed.

PARTICIPLES .

Lesson 32.

Q. What is a Participle?

A. A Participle is a word so called from the Latin participare, to partake of, because, although it is considered to be a form of the verb, it partakes also of the nature of an adjective, and is sometimes called a verbal adjective.

Q. Give me an example of a participle.

A. In the sentence—a running stream—the word running is not an adjective, although it tells the kind of stream, nor can it strictly be called a verb, although it says; the stream is doing something; therefore the word is called a participle, because it has the character of both adjective and verb.

Q. How many participles are there?

A. There are two kinds of participles, the imperfect or active participle, and the perfect or passive participle.

Q. What is the imperfect participle?

A. The imperfect or active participle ends in ing. and denotes imperfect or unfinished action, as - wat-

Q. What is the other participle?

A. The perfect or passive participle ends in ed or d, and shews a perfect or completed condition of the verb, as — I walked.

Q. Why is one participle called active?

2nd per kou pares

A. The active participle is so named because it always denotes some action going on, as - ruling, trying, &c.

Q. Why is the other participle called passive?

A. The passive participle is so called because it shews an endured or suffered action as - ruled, tried, &c. The word passive is from the Latin patior passus, to suffer.

ON CONJUGATION .

Lesson. 33.

Q. What is meant by conjugating a verb?

A. The conjugating, or the conjugation of a verb, is/ naming and joining together its principal forms - from the Latin con. together, jungere, to join.

Q. Conjugate the verb to advise?

Q. In conjugating the future tense, you used the word shall and will; annot the future be conjugated without them?

A. The future tense, or any other manner of the verb in English cannot be expressed, except with shall and will, or other signs prefixed, unless in the past Q. What are these signs called?

A. These signs are called Auxiliary or helping verbs from the Latin auxiliari, to help.

Q. Which are they?

A. The Irregular Verbs, have, be, and do; and the Defective Verbs, shall, will, may, can, let, and must. are the Auxiliary Verbs.

REGULAR AND IRREGULAR VERBS

Lesson 34.

Q. What are Regular Verbs?

A. Verbs are called regular when their past tenses and their perfect participles end in ed, as in the verb advise a live mol and hot waring this may but

Q. How do you find the past tense of a verb? A. By thinking of what I was doing at some time gone by. I find the past tense of a verb. as - from present advise, I say for the past - Yesterday I advised.

Q. How do you, find the perfect participle?

A. By prefixing the auxiliary I have, I find the perfect participle, as -I have advised.

Q. What is an irregular verb?

A. An irregular verb is one in which the past tense and perfect participle do not end in ed.

Q. What is a defective verb?

A. A defective verb is either without a form for the past tense, or the perfect participle, as - may.

THE AUXILIARIES, TENSES, &C.

Lesson 36.

Q. Is it necessary to have a knowledge of the auxiliary verbs ?

A. It is necessary to have a perfect knowledge of the use of the auxiliaries, to be, and to have, because they are prefixed to verbs, to point out the various tenses with greater certainty than could without them be expressed.

Q. Illustrate your meaning?

A. The present, past, and future tenses already given, denote the time uncertainly, that is, the action is incomplete when we say - I love; but when we say

-I have loved - the time expressed is complete and perfect.

Q. Explain this more fully?

A. With the addition of the auxiliaries, we can indicate the action of the verb, in relation to time as either unfinished or imperfect, or as finished and perfect, without changing its character as past, present, or future.

Q. Then may tenses be formed differing from those already mentioned?

A. Besides the simple tenses already mentioned, other tenses may be formed by taking the participles and prefixing the auxiliary signs; thus we have the following Imper. Tenses. Per Tenses. Pres. I am loving, &c. Pres. I have loved, &c.

Past. I was loving. &c. Past. I had loved. &c. Fut. I shall be loving, &c. Fut. I shall have loved, &c.

Q. Can other tenes be formed by other signs prefixed ?

A. By signs prefixed, many other tenses of verbs may be formed to express every degree or relation of time and action . - as I shall have been advising, &c.

ON THE TENSES .

Lesson 39.

Q. What does the present tense imperfect denote?

A. The present tense imperfect shews an action going on at this present time, but not finished; as -I am advising you now.

Q. What does the past imperfect shew?

A. The past tense imperfect shews an action past, but not finished at the time spoken of; as—I was advising you yesterday.

Q. What does the future imperfect shew?

A. The future tense imperfect shews a future action that will not be finished at the time spoken of; as — I shall be advising you to-morrow.

Q. What does the present tense perfect denote?

A. The present tense perfect shews an action finished, but still in effect existing; as —I have advised you now

Q. What does the past perfect express?

A. The past tense perfect expresses an action as finished some time ago; as — I had advised you before yesterday.

Q. What is the future tense perfect?

A. The future tense perfect declares that an action will be finished at some future time; as — I shall have advised you before this time to-morrow.

ON MOOD.

to be, which conveys the idea of a change of diood

Lesson 40.

Q. Have you anything further to state respecting the verb to be?

A. The verb to be has an inflection to express a manner or condition, which no other verb has. This inflection is called mood, which means made or manner.

Q. Have not English verbs, then, generally that which is called mood?

A. With the single exception of to be, verbs have no change by which a different mode of action can be expressed.

Q. Explain this by an example?

A. For instance — I may or can love — is said to be the verb love in the Potential Mood, as implying liberty or power, but in reality it is the word may or can, which expresses liberty or power, and not the verb love.

Q. How, then, is it that Grammars generally have verbs arranged under moods?

A. Because learned men have endeavoured to make our language conform to the structure of the Latin language, which has such moods.

Q. Give an illustration?

A. In Latin we have

Indicative Mood.

Moneo, I advise.

Moneam, I may or can advise.

where there is a difference in the word which expresses advise, but in English there is none.

Q. What is the meaning of subjunctive?

A. The term subjunctive is derived from the Latin sub, under, and jungere, to join, because it is usually joined to another sentence, or dependent upon another verb, and implies a condition; as—I would go, if he were ready.

/ Q. Give another example?

ined in the following sentence—If he be there, and if he say anything, give him this.

Q. What have you to observe respecting this form?

A. The same meaning is conveyed without the subjunctive; as—If he is there, and if he says anything give him this,—because the doubt or contingency is expressed in the word if, which is merely a contraction of the old English gif, or give.

Q. Will you explain still further?

A. The word if means just the same as give that, or allow; so that when I say—If he is there—it is equal to saying—Give that he is there, or—All—he is there.

The I - sa wantama Lesson 142 bbs will you and upinsed

Q. Is the subjunctive frequently used?

A. The subjunctive form of the verb is scarcely ever used now in conversation, or by the best writers of the present day.

Q. When should the subjunctive be used?

A. The subjunctive should only be used when future contingency is to be expressed.

Q. Give an explanation?

A. It would be wrong to say—If an effort is now made it would be successful—because this is as much as affirming that, an effort now at this present is made, when the true meanig of the expression is—If an effort should be made, or were to be made, it would be successful.

Q. Is there any real need for the subjunctive?

ing past or present doubt and contingency, as in these cases I can take the usual past and present tenses of the verb. To express future contingency, I must use the auxiliaries, shall and should, with the infinitive be.

Q. Give some examples in the present and past tenses?

A. Speaking in the present tense, I need not use the subjunctive, but may say,—If the boy is good, he will have a reward.—He shall be punished if he has taken it. And in the past tense—If it was true, I am sorry to hear it—Tell me if Gustavus has been there.

Q. Give an example of the future?

A. The subjunctive must be used in speaking of future contingency, as—We shall go to-morrow, if it be fine; or more propely—if it should be fine.

PASSIVE VERBS.

Lesson 43.

Q. Are not some verbs called passive?

A. Some verbs are called passive, but not properly so, as they do not become passive in meaning by inflection but by the addition of an auxiliary; as —1 advised — is active, but by prefixing the word am, it is said to become passive; thus — I am ... sed.

Q. Did you not say that participles are sometimes called active and passive?

A. The participles when they are used with the various tenses of the verb to be are called active or passive, according as they give an active or a passive signification to the expression.

Q. Conjugate the active and passive participles advising and advised, in connexion with the tenses of to be? (See verb to be, page 37.)

Lesson 46.

Q. Are adverbs inflected?

A. There are not many adverbs varied by inflection; some, however, have degrees of comparison similarly to adjectives; the comparison is chiefly made by adding er or est to the positive form.

Q. Are not some adverbs called Compound?

A. Some adverbs are called Compound adverbs and are formed of two or more words, as - anywhere (any where), thenceforth (thence forth); to-day; now-a-days, - and many others.

Q. Which adverbs are derived from adjectives?

A. Adverbs derived from adjectives are principally adverbs of manner, and are generally formed by adding ly to the adjective: as - wretched, wretchedly; righteous, righteously, &c., &c.

Q. How is the adverb formed if the adjective ends oin y and le?

A. When the adjective ends in y the adverb is formed by changing y into i and adding by to it as - happy. happily. When the adjective ends in le, the adverb is formed by changing e into y, as - terrible, terribly. (See appendix 2.)

Q. What is Syntax ? item the would land surround

A. Syntax consists of those rules of grammar, which teach us to place words together in such arrangement as to form correct sentences. The word is dervied from the Greek syn, together, and taxis, to arrange, or place the vert direct together.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR

33

Q. Which is the first rule of syntax?

A. Rele 1. A verb must be in the same number and person as the nominative case.

Q. Is this expression correct? - He talk very much.

A. The sentence—He talk very much—is not correct, because the verb talk not being the third person singular number, is not in agreement with the nominative case He, which is the third person, singular number.

Q. Give some other examples?

A. The expression—One of my rabbits are dead—should be—One of my rabbits is dead—in order that the verb may agree with the nominative case, one.—His knowledge of Greek and Latin shew his learning—should be—His knowledge of Greek and Latin shews his learning—that the verb shews may be in the same number and person as knowledge, the nominative.

Q. Give another application of this rule?

A. When the nominative case is a noun, which although singular in form, speaks of many, the rule must be applied according as the idea of singular or plural is intended to be conveyed; thus we say—the public is informed—mankind is governed by appearances—because) we think of the public and mankind as one body; but we may say—the people are suffering,—because we think of the suffering being that of a number of persons.

Lesson 48.

(e zibradde ans)

Q. What is the second rule of syntax?

A. Rule 2. The Objective case of nouns and of pronouns must follow an active verb or a preposition.

Q. Give an example of this rule?

A. John struck Charles, because he disliked him. In this sentence, the nonn Charles is objective, after the verb struck; and the pronoun him is the objective after the verb disliked.

Q. Another example?

A. In the phrase — He sat by Victor — the noun Victor is said to be the objective case, after, or governed by the preposition by.

Lesson 43.

Q. Which is the third rule of syntax?

A. Rule 3. The verb to be requires a nominative case of a pronoun or noun after it, as well as before it.

O Cive some examiles

Q. Do we mean only the words to be?

A. We mean by the verb to be, that verb in all its inflectione, as the words am, is, are, was, were, &c., which are parts of the verb to be.

why it should be altered?

A. The phrase — Charles is him — is not correct; it should be — Charles is he — because the noun Charles being in the nominative case, I must put the same case after is, (a part of the verb to be) according to the rule; therefore I use the nominative pronoun he.

Q. Correct the following sentences - It is me. It was not her who did it?

A. To speak correctly, I must say—It is I. It was not she who did it.

Q. Is there a reason for this rule?

A. The reason why the nominative case must follow the verb to be, is because that verb implies being or existence only, and not action.

Q. Explain this further?

A. If to be were an active verb, I should completely alter the meaning of any sentence by changing the places of the nouns or pronouns; as, in—I love you,—love being an active verb, by transposing the pronouns I should have to say—You love me—but in the phrase—Newton was a wise man—I make no alteration in the sense by saying—A wise man was Newton—because to be expresses only being or existing.

Lesson 50 . The Bouldon . O .

Q. What is the next rule of syntax?

A. Rule 4. When two nouns with different meanings come together, the first must be in the possessive case; but when the nouns signify the same person or thing, they must be in the same case.

Q. Give some examples

- A. If I say this is Sidney's kite the noun Sidney is in the possessive case, Sidney being the possessor of the kite so also Alfred's book the lion's mane, &c.
- Q. Now some examples of the other part of this rule?
- A. When two nouns signify the same thing, they must be put in the same case: in—Byron the poet—both nouns are nominative, as they point out the same person.

Lesson 51.

Q. Give another rule of syntax?

A Rule 5. When two verbs come together, the latter must be put in the infinitive, as - I try to write.

Q. Is anything applying to this rule to be obsert ved?

A. The to of the infinitive must be omitted after the verbs bid, can, dare, feel, hear, let, make, may, must, need. shall, see and will.

Q. Explain this further.

A. We must say—I can write—not—I can to write—You may go—not—You may to go.

add perguents vel amount Lesson 52. garman and the vis

Q. What is the next rule of syntax?

nnexion with each other, the proper tense of each

Q. Explain the rule by an example?

A. It is wrong to say - I meant to have written - we ought to say - I meant to write.

Q. Illustrate the rule still further?

A. We often say—I should have liked to have gone—instead of—I should have liked to go—for at the time spoken of, to go was the thing desired, not—to have gone.

Lesson 53

Q. Give another rule of syntax?

A. Rule 7. Pronouns must agree in number, gender, case, and person with the nouns, instead of which they are used.

Q. Shew me an example of the rule?

A. In the sentence—the boy learns his lesson—the pronoun his is of the singular number, masculine gender, possessive case, third person, as the noun boy's would be, for which the pronoun his is used.

Q. Correct the phrase - Every one to their seats?

one being in the singular number, &c., the pronoun his agrees with it, and not the pronoun their.

Lesson 54.

Q. Which is the next rule of syntax?

A. Rule 8. Conjunctions must connect the same cases together; as — Sam and I went. — He called Sam and me. Q. Why do you say Sam and I in one case, and Sam and me in the other?

A. Because the word Sam in the first sentence is in the nominative case, and in the second it is in the objective case, after the verb called. Therefore, I put the pronouns which follow the conjunction and in the same cases. The first is equivalent to saying—Sam went, and I went—the other is the same as—He called Sam, and he called me.

Q. Are there many other rules of syntax?

A. There are many other rules of syntax, but they are at present of minor importance, and may be left for study until some future time. The rules already given are the principal ones, and if they are clearly understood, will enable any one to guard against gross mistake.

PUNCTUATION OR POINTING.

Lesson 55.

Q. What are the points and stops made use of in writing?

A. The stops used in writing and in printing are the Comma (.), the Semi-colon (;), the Colon (:), the Period or Full Stop (.), the Interrogation (?), and the Exclamation, or Note of Admiration (!).

Q. What is the use of the comma?

A. The comma shews the shortest pause that we usually make in speaking.

Q. What is the use of the semi-colon?

- A. The semi-colon implies a longer pause than the comma denotes, and is used to divide portions of a sentence which the comma would de insufficient to keep distinct.
 - Q. What is the colon?
- A. The colon marks the end of a sentence, when there is another sentence beyond, which renders the sense complete.

Q. What is the full stop?

A. The period, or full stop, is used at the end of every completed sentence; and after abbreviated words. as Nom. for Nominative, S. for South, Q. and A. for question and answer.

Q. What is the use of the interrogation?

A. The interrogation is used to denote that a question is asked.

Q. What does the note of admiration ar exclamation shew ? the collect tries

A. The exclamation shews which words or sentences are to be taken as exclamatory. .

Q. Is it necessary to know how to use these stops? A. It is desirable to be able to use the points in a proper manuer, because the meaning of a sentence may sometimes be completely altered by the pointing,

Q. Give an example of incorrect pointing?

A. Julius Cæsar landed twice upon the island the first time; he did little more than debark his troops and drive off the patives the second time; he advanced into the country and crossed the Thames.

Q. Correct the pointing in the above sentence?

Julius Casar landed twice upon the island; the first time he did little more than debark his troops, and drive off the natives; the second time he advanced into the country and crossed the Thames.

Q. Are there any rules for using the stops?

A. There are no precise rules for pointing, it must be left to the taste and judgment, and depends upon the sense in which the subject is to be understood.

MARKS USED IN WRITING AND

Q. What other marks are used in writing and printing ?

A. The Parenthesis (). the Apostrophe ('). the Asterisk ('), the Cross (+), the Parallels (||), the Paragraph (¶), and the Section (§).
Q. What is the parenthesis used for?

A. The parenthesis is used to enclose one sentence within another; as - He appeared and waved his bonnet (the signal agreed on) on the summit of the hill.

Q. For what purpose is the apostrophe used?

A. The apostrophe is used to contract a word; asboro' for borough, and to mark the possessive case, as -St. Paul's.

Q. For what are the other signs used?

A. The other signs are generally used to refer to some note at the bottom of a page; the T is also used to mark off a paragraph in the Bible, and S is sometimes used instead of the word section.

Q. What is a hyphen?

A. A hyphen is a mark used to join syllables or words together; as al-ready, semi-colon: it is thus marand the state of t ked (-).

Q. What is a caret?

A. The caret is a sign of something left out, and of a contracted syllable; it is marked thus (A).

ON PARSING. Form in Venitorio La Aslan Conform

Lesson 57.

Q. What is Parsing?

- A. Parsing is telling to what part of speech any word belongs, what are its inflections, and what relation it has to other words in a sentence.
 - Q. How is parsing to be learnt?
- A. A knowledge of parsing cannot be altogether acquired from rules, or from lists of words of the various parts of speech. Q. How can this be?

- A. In the exercises on the parts of speech (page 15) the same word was seen to be an adjective, a noun, and a verb, according to its relation with the other words in the sentence.
- Q. If, then, there is this uncertainty as to what part of speech a word belongs, how are we able to parse ?
- A. By careful attention to the principles and rules which have been given, we may generally be able to tell to what part of speech any word belongs.

EXERCISE ON PARSING

Lesson 58.

Q. Parse the following sentence — A bee amongst the flowers in spring is one of the most cheerful objects; its life appears to be all enjoyment?

A. A - is an indefinite numeral adjective, referring to the noun bee.

bee — common noun; common gender; singular number; nominative case to the yerb is. (Answers to question What is? see page 21).

amongst - preposition, shewing the relation between bee and flowers.

the - adjective, pointing out the noun flowers.

flowers — common noun; neuter gender; plural number objective case; after preposition amongst. Rule 2, Syntax. The objective case of nouns, pronouns, &c.

n-preposition, shewing the relation between flowers and spring.

spring — proper noun; neuter gender; (in poetry sometimes feminine) singular number; objective case; after preposition in. Rule 2.

third person; singular number; agreeing with the nominative case bee. Rule 1. A verb must be, &c.

one — numeral adjective; cardinal; no comparison.

the - adjective, demonstrating most cheerful objects.

most — adverb of quantity; superlative degree; from much, cheerful — adjective.

most cheerful — general adjective; superlative degree, referring to noun objects.

objects — common noun; neuter gender; plural number; objective case. Rule 2.

its - pronoun; personal; common gender; third person; singular number; possessive case.

life - noun; abstract; singular number; nominative case to verb appears. (What appears? Ans. life appears. See page 21).

appears — verb, regular, intransitive; present tense; third person: singular number; agreeing with nominative case life. Rule 1.

to be - verb in the infinitive after verb appears. Rule 5. When two verbs come together, &c.

all—indefinite numeral adjective; no comparison; referring to noun enjoyment.

enjoyment — abstract noun; singular number; objective case after the compound verb appears to be:

(What does life appear to be? Ans. all enjoyment; therefore enjoyment is objective. Rule 2, syntax).

CAUTIONS.

Lesson 59.

Q. Give me some examples of improper and inelegant expressions and correct them?

A. The present tense is often improperly used instead of the past; as — He come home yesterday, — which should be — He came home yesterday.

The present tense should not be used instead of the future; as — I hope he comes to-morrow — for — I hope he will come home to-morrow — Who preaches to-night? — instead of — Who will preach to-night?

The past tense of an irregular verb must not be used instead of the perfect participle; thus—He has took it—instead of—He has taken it. I should have went—ought to be—I should have gone.

'Although an intransitive verb does not take an objective case after it, yet there are some exceptions to this rule, of which the above is one; in fact, the compound verb (appears to be) gives no completed meaning, and therefore repuires an accusative after it.

5 05003

The participle must not be used for the past tense. as — He done it. should be — He did it.

Q. How should the past tense and the participle be used?

A. The perfect participle follows the verbs have and be, the past tense does not; as, past tense. I advised. Perfect participle. To be advised. Past tense, They speke. Perfect participle, They have spoken.

Q Are not adjectives sometimes improperly used instead of adverbs?

A. yes: we ought not to say—She plays beautiful,—but—She plays beautifully. He is a particular good boy—should be—He is a particularly good boy. He knows his lesson perfect—ought to be—He knows his lesson perfectly.

Q. Correct the following expressions—I got a new knife.—He has got my book?

A. Got is a vingar and generally redundant word. often used instead of the verb to have. Instead of the above phrases, we should say—I have a new knife. He has my book.

ck me?

A. This should be - John has struck me - or - John came and struck me.

He laid there all day?

A. Lie down on the grass. He lay there all day.

Q. Name the past tenses and perfect participles of lay and lie?

A

Present Tense. Past Tense. Participle.

(I) lay, to place. (I) laid. (I have) laid.

(I) lie, to lie down. (I) lay. (I have) lain.

Q. Correct these expressions — Set down. He set there?

PART VI. - PROSODY.

Lesson 60.

Q. What is Prosody?

A. Prosody, from pros, to, and ode, a song is that branch of Grammar which relates to pronunciation and versification.

Q. What is pronunciation?

A. Pronunciation is the tone of voice, and manner of speech which we use in reading or speaking.

Q. What further have you to say of pronunciation?

A. That branch of prosody which relates to pronun-

Q. What is accent?

A. Accent is the emphasis or greater stress of voice which is used in pronouncing certain syllables; the word is from the Latin accentus, a tone.

Q. How is the accent marked?

A. The principal is marked ('), and denotes that a greater stress is to be laid on a syllable; as — rapture. The inferior accent, marked thus ('), shews a lesser degree of force, as — access.

Q. What is intonation?

A. Intonation is the rising or the falling of the voioe, suitably to the subject which is being read or spoken; from the Latin in, in; tonare to sound loud.

Q. What is versification?

A. Versification is the art of poetry, or the arrangement of words into sentences of regular accented intervals.

Q. Will it be necessary to enter fully into the subject of prosody?

A. At present, it will be scarcely useful to enter more fully into the subject of prosody, especially as pronunciation may be considered to belong properly to the art of rhetoric.

Q. What is Rhetoric?

A. Rhetoric is an advanced kind of Grammar, from rhetorike, oratory, the art of speaking and writing with elegance.
