

5 6 7 8 9 10 1 2 3 4 Internal median bearing the leading of the le

CONVERSATION

OF

ENGLISH LANGUAGE;

FOR THOSE, WHO BEGIN TO LEARN THE ENGLISH.

BY

R. VAN DER PYL.

SECOND EDITION.

NUMADZ

WATANABE &. CO.

SECOND YEAR OF MEI-JI.

CONVERSATION.

- Good day.
- Good evening.
- Good night.
- Good morning.
- Giv. me.
- Lend me.
- 7. Bring him,
- 8. Send us.
- 9. Presently.
- 10. Command me.
- 11. Say me, tell me.
- 12. Fetch us.
- 13. I can't (cannot).
- 14. You dare not.
- 15. He will not
- 16. They shall do it.
- 17. Take patience.
- 18. Be silent.
- 19. Don't (do not) sp- 18. Do you know it? eak.
- 20. He will not speak.
- 21. They can speak. (2.)
- 1. It is true,

- 2. Is it true?
- It is not true.
- 4. Yes, indeed.
- 5. Was it true?
- 6. I believe so.
- 7. It may be true.
- 8. It is too true.
- 9. I tell the truth.
- 10. Do you tell the truth?
- 11. I believe you.
- 12. Do you believe me.
- 13. I always believe you.
- 14. I am glad of it.
- 15. They will not believe me.
- 16. Why not?
- 17. I don't know.
- 19. I know it since long.
- 20. But he don't know it. (3.)
- 11. Who speaks there?

2. It is I. 3. Speak aloud.

4. Still alouder.

5. Speak low.

6. Still lower.

7. He has a clear voice.

8. She has a strong 8. He writes well. voice.

9. Do you speak to

10. It speaks of itself. | 11. I blot out a line.

12. He knows nothing. 13. Do you choose ano-

13. Every one speaks of ther pen? it.

15. Yes, it is possible.

16. I assure you.

18. Do not doubt it.

20. Upon my honour. (4.)

1. I write a letter.

2. I am writing.

3. I write in a hurry. 2. What's a clock?

5. What are you writing?

6. I am answering a letter.

7. You write worse and worse.

9. I have writen a page.

10. Blot out that word.

11. Why dont he speaks? 12. The letter is ready.

14. Are your pens good?

14. Is it possible? 15. Be so kind as to make me some.

16. They are too fine.

17. You may be sure of it. 17. The points are blunt.

19. It is really so. 18. They are good for nothing.

19. Try them.

(5.) 1. What o' clock is it?

4. I have written all, 3. Look at your watch.

4. Look at yours.

6. It is a quarter past 2. It is serene weather. nine. 3. It is good weather.

7. It is half (or half an 4. It is fine weather.

ore ten.

9. It wants a quarter 7. It is changeable weof ten.

11. It has not struck twelve yet.

12. It is upon the stroke 10. Does it not rain?

13. Is it so late already? 12. It is rainy, stormy

14. It is much later. weather.

15. Hark! it strikes one 13. It is dark weather,

16. It is about two o' ather.

17. It wants but a few mild.

18. The clock is going | clear up.

(6.)

5. It is nine o' clock. | 1. How is the weather?

hour) past nine. 5. Is it bad weather?

8. It is a quarter bef- 6. Yes, it is very bad weather.

ather.

10. It has struck eleven. 8. The weather grows cloudy

9. It is going to snow.

of twelve. | 11. It threatens to rain,

o' clock. | 14. It is unsettled we-clock. | 15. The weather is very minutes. | 16. The weather will to strike. | 17. It begins to be fair 19. Do you hear the again.

clock strike? 118. There is a rainbow.

19. The wind falls.

21. The wind blew hard.

hing wind.

23. It freezes very hard. 16. It thunders.

24. The river is frozen 17. The thunder roars. over.

25. The ice bears. (7.)

evenings are cold.

3. It is excessively cold.

5. I shiver for cold.

mbed with cold.

7. It begins to be warm.

8. The spring is agre- 1. What age are you? eable.

9. It is very warm.

10. I find the heat too 3. I shall soon be twemuch.

11. It is extremely hot. 4. Is it possible?

13. The heat is very inconvenient.

20. The wind is turned, 14. I can't endure the heat.

22. It is a cool, refres- 15. I am all over in a sweat.

18. Are you afraid of thunder?

19. Not at all.

1. The mornings and 20. It is not possible to go out.

2. It is very cold. 21. We are at the end of the fine days.

4. The wind blows cold. 22. The days begin to decrease.

6. My fingers are benu- 23. The evenings are long.

(8.)

2. I am twenty years of age.

nty five.

12. I sweat. 5. What age is your sister?

6. She is turned of si- | 3. I am going to bed.

7. She is very tall for 5. Do you sleep?

8. What age may yo- 7. She sleeps very sour father be? undly.

9. He is in his fiftieth | 8. That makes me vear.

10. I did not take him | 9. They rest now.

11. Your grandfather is th sleep.

12. This young man is | 12. He falls asleep again of age.

13. Your niece is under 13. I have not slept age.

15. Is your friend N. nk of sleep.

16. No Sir, he is dead.

18. I am sorry for it.

man.

(9.)

1. I am drowsy.

2. I am sleepy.

xteen. | 4. I am falling asleep.

her age. 6. You are fast asleep.

sleepy.

of that age. | 10. He is overcome wisticken in years. 11. Were you asleep?

immediately.

the whole night.

14. She is very young. 14. I did not get a wi-still alive? | 15. I had a very bad night.

17. He died last year. | 16. I laid awake all night.

19. He was a virtuous 17. At what time did you go to bed?

18. At twelve o' clock.

19. I want to bed very late.

times. ediately. 3. It is yet too early. 5. It is time to rise. 7. Rise quickly. 8. I rise every morning 3. Do as you please. early? or not.

12. She is dressed in 9. Henceforth I will do white. so. 13. You are dressed in 10. I shall do my utmost. black. | 11. Do no more than 14. He dresses after the necessery.

15. I am not dressed days ago. in the fashion. 13. If I could do it.

20. I went to bed be-, 16. My clothes are old fashioned.

17. Try me this coat on. I. I am going to rise. 18. It is very well made.

2. We shall rise imm- 19. This coat is out of fashion.

(11.)

4. You are mistaken. 1. Have you any thing to do?

6. I can't get up early. 2. What have you to do?

at six o' clock. 4. I do but my duty.

9. Why do you rise so 5. Whether I do it

10. Make haste and dress 6. I have a right to yourself. do it.

11. You are neatly and 7. I could have done it. plainly dressed. | 8. I will get it done.

English fashion. 12. I did it three 15. I do nothing. no such thing. tely be gone.

to-morrow.

19. I shall do it without fail.

20. It is as good as her house. done.

(12.)

2. Let us go to the garden. 17. They have been th-

3. I am going to the ere twice. countryseat. 18. He goes to and fro.

4. Do you go by water? 19. All will go on well.

5. Whither shall you (13.)

6. I shall not fail to go three days.

7. Were you ever there. nor less.

8. I intend going thi- 3. It will be the last time.

14. Let him take his 10. I have likewise a own way. mind to go thither.

16. I would have done II. If you will absolu-

17. It will be done by 12. Go to the right or to the left.

18. He shifts as he can. 13. I believe he is gone home.

14. They have been at

15. I am going to meet him.

1. I will go home. 16. We go thither by go? 1. I have been there thither. 2. It is neither more ther. 4. It is the reigning 9. Shall I go with you? fashion.

- 5. It is all one.
- 6. It is always so.
- 7. It is once for all.
- 8. It is the same thing.
- 9. It is yet worse.
- 10. It is a set price.
- 12. It is a folly.
- 14. It is not necessary.
- 15. It is not wholesome. 8. They have had it a - 16. It is not at all better.
- 18. That is not a new time.
- 19. Every day is not of it.
- 20. That is none of the
- 21. Give me another. to be there.
- 23. I thank you. | 15. I will not fail.
- 1. He has a great for nted it.
- -2. It is a moneyed man. enough.

- 13. Had I but money enough.
- 4. We have many fine books.
- 5. Every one has his weakness.
- 11. They were on foot. | 6. There is a new fashion.
- 13. It is not always so. 7. I shall have time tomorrow.
 - week.
- 17. You are not the 9. It is hard to come at.
 - only one. 10. They have not much
 - thing for us. | 11. I shall stand in need
 - sunday. 12. He has missed his aim,
 - best. 13. They shall not fail
- 22. You are very kind. | 14. There wants nothing.
- (14.) | 16. We thought he wa
 - rtune. 17. I have more than

- 18. He has much trouble. | 13. I am sorry for it.
- about me.
- (15.)
- I have the hon- it.
- 2. How do you do?
- 3. I am very well, how sterday.
- 5. How do they all do 20. He has a malignaat your house? nt fever.
- 6. They are all in 21. I heartily wish him good health. recovery
- 8. She is a little indi- fare-well.
- 10. She has got a cold. family.
- 11. She easily catches 24. I shall not fail. cold. (16.)
- headake. lk to-day.

- 19. I have all I want | 14. I wished she was well.
- 20. I am provided with it. 15. Do you know, that 21. I have got enough. Mr. N. is dangerously ill?
- 1. Your servant Sir, 16. I know nothing of
- our to be yours. 17. He was taken ill the day before ye
 - is it with you? 18. He is past recovery.
- 4. Very well, thank 19. The physician has God. given him over.
- 7. Except my sister. 22. I am going home,
- sposed. 23. Present my compli-9. What is her illness? ments to your
- 12. She has got the 1. Let us take a wa-

Whither shall we go?

ntryseat.

4. It is too far off.

the garden.

a little walk.

lking this hour.

pleasant.

to.

10. It is a very pretty 23. I am very tired. walk.

11. What a fine green is here.

12. Your garden is very fine.

14. We shall shelter ou- me, for it is going

15. You see I take deli- it can pour.

flowers.

To our friend's cou- 16. You are a florist.

117. We shall gather some to make a nosegay.

5. Let us then go to 18. These flowers have a charming smell.

6. We shall take but 19. Do you not hear the warbling of birds?

7. For I have been wa- 20. Yes, that is very agreeable.

8. This way is very 21. I have heard already the cuckoo.

9. It is much resorted 22. We shall rest now a little.

24. I have fatigued myself.

25. You must not go so fast.

26. I cannot follow you.

13. Here is a magn- 27. We shall go slower.

ificent bower. 28. We must return horselves in it for to rain.

the sun. 29. It rains as fast as ght in cultivating 30. It is only a shower.

31. It will be done presently.

(17.)

1. I am overjoyed to see you, how do 14. A little of both. you do?

2. At your service, and you?

3. As well as heart can wish.

4. I beg you to take 18. I don't care for any. to day.

provided you will use no ceremony. 21. Here is new bread.

daily fair.

good appetite.

9. This soup appears 24. No, give me a leg, good.

10. Take some vegetables.

11. Some turnips or ca- some partridge?

rrots.

12. Bring the boiled meat.

13. Will you have fat or lean?

15. Give me a slice of roast meat.

16. Do you like some roast veal?

17. I will help myself.

a dinner with me 19. Shall I help you to some bread?

5. With all my heart; 20. That bread is too stale.

6. I will not make any. 22. Let us take now so-7. We have but our mething of that chicken.

8. I shall dine with a 23. Shall I help you to a wing?

to me to be very if you please.

25. Pray, give me also a bit.

26. Will you not have

27. Who understands carving?

28. Are you a good carver?

29. Be then so kind as to carve that young turkey.

30. It is to my taste.

31. It tastes well.

32. Hand that plate this 47. I am not a great way.

33. Who dresses that 48. Empty your glass. salad?

34. There is the salad 50. I am almost choadish.

uet.

36. Here is the vinegarc- 52. John! clear away ruet and the salt.

ough.

38. Mix it.

39. Give me some.

40. You neither eat, nor drink.

41. Fill some drink.

small beer.

43. I will rather drink a glass of wine.

44. I have the honour to drink your health.

45. Ladies! to all your health.

46. You drink too little.

drinker.

49. I am very thirsty.

ked with thirst.

35. Give me the oiler- 51. I cannot quench my thirst.

the table.

37. There is not oil en- 53. Put the dessert on the table.

54. Do you like apples, pears, peaches, cherries, strawberries, currants, plums and apricots?

42. Here is strong and 55. Help me to some walnuts.

56. Have you peeled these pears.

57. Throw away the pa- dressed. rings.

58. What will you take now?

60. I have made a good meal.

61. I have eaten sufficiently.

62. A good appetite needs no sauce.

(18.)

1. I am going to school, clock.

much later.

4. You come very late; prayers have been said already.

5. I have been detained 17. They are too fine.

, 6. You deceive me, I fear.

7. You are not half

That sluttishness displeases me.

9. You have not washed 59. I shall eat no more. your hands and face.

> 10. You got up too late, I believe.

11. Forgive me, Sir, I shall be more careful in the future.

63. You are in the right. 12. Go to your place, and learn your lessons.

> it strikes nine o' 13. 1 cannot sit down, make a little room.

2. Make haste, it is 14. I am going to write my exercises.

3. That is not possible. 15. Give me my writing book, and some new made pens.

16. Try these pens.

by my uncle Sir! 18. The points of those are blunt

19. That writing is not legible.

21. Bend the thumb office, and pay and the two fingers.

22. Rest your left arm upon the table.

23. Your exercise is full 34. Yes, and after that of faults, you did not look at the rules.

25. This is too thick, 36. Bring me the coloand does not run

26. Put some drops of leave to play?

a hurry.

28. I shall copy them 39. As to your brother, fair.

29. Lend me a sheet of at school.

sealing-wax and wafers.

31. Seal the letter.

20. Hold your pen thus. 32. Bring it to the postthe postage

33. Must we not have a lesson of geography?

we must write a dictation.

35. Where are your 24. Give me other ink. | maps?

ured maps.

free. 37. Shall we have now vinegar in it 38. Yes, but take care 27. You have written in not to make great noice.

he must remain

post-paper, I must 40. He has not perforwrite a letter. med his duty.

30, Here is some 41. He has written

42. He shall make anot- 11. M. Lisiere, I want

44. Your writing is good | Sir? another.

45. Show it me, when you are ready. (19.)

1. John! will the tailor 14. No, I take the wa-

2. Yes sir, if he keeps ousers of silk.

fellow.

6. There he is already, a half yard.

7. Is Mr. M. at home? | tailor.

9. Sir, there is the sufficient.

very bad. 110. Bid him come up.

her writing. a suit of clothes.

43. There is a pen for 12. Would you have me text hand. | make a full suit, for nothing; make 13. Would you choose to have the coat, waist-coat and trousers of the same cloth?

come to-day? ist-coat and the tr-

his word. | 15. What stuff will you 3. When have you sp- have the coat maoken to him? de of?

4. That I don't know 16. Of black Leiden myself. cloth, how many 5. You are a forgetful yards do I want?

17. At least three and

I believe. | 18. You speak like a

8. Yes, he is. 19. Three yards will be tailor. 20. I shall take now

21. How will you have

22. After the English or

23. Make it me after the

24. I have followed lo- my suit!

so long?

26. Without doubt, and

27. How is it with the omise.

28. It must be high (20.)

29. You will make me to buy cloth?

30. It shall fit you very the French arms.

31. Will you be pleased accustomed and w-

32. Yes, I prefer silk the draper?

your measure. 33. Must I make pockets in the trousers?

the coat made? | 34. Yes, and for all leather pockets.

French fashion. | 35. The fob must be greater than this.

English fashion. | 36. When shall I have ng enough the 37. The next week.

French fashion. | 38. I hope you are a 25. Must the waist be man of your word.

> 39. I will stand to my promise.

the skirts short. 40 It is a tailor's prcoliar? | 41 You like to jest Sir.

and very broad. 1. Where shall we go a singular dress. 2 On the square, at well. 3. The shop is well to have the coat ell stocked.

lined with silk? 4. Where lives Mr. A.

stuff to another. 5. In that great white confectioner.

6. What a fine shop!

7. It is the greatest of 18. That is the best the city.

8. It is a house like a palace.

9. Sir, be pleased to 20. It will do you an cloth.

10. Here are patterns 21. I like that cloth very of all the superfine cloths.

11. Choose the colour sell it a yard?

13. It will look ve- 24. Have you fixed me

14. That cloth will wear give it less.

15. Would it not be too 28. They are all fixed thin. prices.

16. I think, it is too 29. Cut me four yards threadbare, of it then.

house, next to the 117. Here is another piece of the same colour.

> cloth you wish for.

19. Feel, how soft it is.

show us some infinite deal of service.

well.

22. How much do you you like best. 23. That cloth is of a 12. This is a particular guinea, take it or colour in fashion. leave it.

ry well, with a the lowest price?

black silk waist- 25. Must I not cheapen?

coat. 26. Not at all, I don't very well. 27. I have not exacted.

30. Have you no occas- | 43. You are pleased to ion for lining?

31. Will you have a silk | 44. I must give, what stuff or serge?

32. I will take silk of 45. There is your moa skyblue.

33. What is the price 46. It is right, I thank of it?

34. I can't sell it under five shillings.

35. Oh! you joke, I believe.

36. You ask out of the way.

hing of it?

38. I make but one 4. Look yourself in word.

39. It is indeed very 5. It fits you extremely cheap.

40. I will give you four 6. It fits you to a hair.

41. It stands me in more all awry. for it.

42. I can't do it without 9. As to the trousers, losing by it.

say so.

you ask then.

ney.

you. (21.)

1. Here is your suit, Sir.

2. You are a man of your word.

3. Will you be bleased 37. Will you bate not- to try the coat on?

the glass.

well.

shillings. 7. But the sleeves are than you bid me S. See, how ugly that looks.

they are too wide.

10. They are wretchedly, made.

11. The trousers must be rectified.

ttonholes well worked.

ore pressed down.

for it Sir.

16. Here is the shoem- 29. There is not the lea-

17. Mr Crepin, I want a a pair of shoes.

to have pumps? | much.

19. Certainly, have you 32. They are too narrow.

20. Here is a fine pair. too sharp.

21. The sole is as thin 34. They will widen en-

22. I shall wear them ring.

a fortnight.

23. You are mistaken Sir, they are very strong.

12. Neither are the bu- 24. They are not to be worn out.

25. I will try them on.

13. The seams must be m- 26. Where is my shoeing-horn?

14. Have you brought 27. Stamp your foot upyour bill? on the ground.

15. There is no hurry 28. There, your foot is aker. st wrinkle in them.

pair of boots and 30. They fit you to a hair.

18. Will you be pleased 31. They pinch me too good ones? | 33. And the toes are as paper. ough in the wea-out in less than 35. For that leather str-

- anish leather.
- must put them on the last.
- 38. Bring them back to-morrow.
- which are neither too wide.
- 40. You are very hard 11. Not at all. (22.)
- a hat, where does | pence, Sir.
- In the St. Paul's church.
- buy a good hat. powder.
- you can wish for. enough?

- etches like a gl-, 5. Are they cocked?
- 6. The brims of the-36. It is of the best Sp- se hats are too droad.
- 37. It may be, but you 7. That is the fashion at present.
 - 8. This does not fit me, it is too narrow.
- 39. I will have shoes, 9. This will do, it is somewhat wider.
 - too narrow, nor 10. The crown is too high, I think.
 - to please Sir. 12. I will keep it then; what does it cost?
- 1. I am going to buy 13. One shilling nine
 - the hatter live? | 14. There is the periwigmaker; be so kind street, over-agai- as to cut my hair.
 - nst the English 15. And after that you must dress me.
 - Sir, I wished to 16. You use too much
- 4, Here are the best, 17. Have you pomade

- 18. Yes Sir, more than | 30. That is the fashion. I want.
- 19. Now you must shave me.
- 20. Are your razors sharp?
- 21. They have been just see you, my dear ground.
- 22. John! fetch the with your health? bason and the 2. It is a year since I washball.
- 23. Give also a towel 3. Sit down, if you and warm water.
- cut me.
- 25. I believe that your 5. We shall talk togethand shakes.
- 26. Be not afraid, I have a steady hand.
- 27. Here is the laundr- immediately. my linen.
- 28. The shirts are well 8. It does simmer alrewashed.
- 29. But the ruffles are 9. Do you choose to not good.

- 31. Well, then I shall comply with the fashion.

(23.)

- 1. I am overjoyed to friend, how is it
 - have seen you.
 - please.
- 24. Be prudent, don't 4. How shall we spend the time?
 - her, and drink a dish of tea in the mean-while.
 - 6. I will make some tea
 - ess, who brings | 7. The water is going to boil.
 - adv.
 - drink bohea-tea or other?

10. It is indifferent to me.

11. Then we shall take bohea-tea.

12. John! give me the teabox and the teaspoon.

draw.

14. Your tea is excellent.

too much.

16. Another cup my fri- 26. It diverts me much. end?

17. I thank you, no more for me.

18. Shall we take now 28. What diverts others a walk?

your sister, and violin. go with us.

20. She is not at home, 31. Now it is in tune. countryseat.

off the walk to another day.

22. We shall rather play at some music.

23. Yes, instead of talking, we shall play together on the fiddle or violin.

13. Give it time now to 24. You know that music is my darling amusement.

15. I have drunk indeed 25. I take great delight in it.

27. And your cousin calls it an insipid pleasure.

tires him.

19. Let us call then upon 29. I shall string my ask her if she will 30. I must put strings to it.

she is at Mr. A.'s 32. We shall play this adagio.

21. Then we shall put 33. You play too quick, vou must play, slow.

34. Keep good time.

masterly.

36. You fletter me, I believe.

37. I am in good earnest.

38. Let us call another cause.

39. You have been in company with your

40. Yes, he is a very troublesome person.

41. He carps at every one. 2.

42. He finds faults with every thing.

talker.

44. He has not so much 4. wit as my friend.

45. He has insulted Mr. 5. N. openly.

46. He has abused him.

47. Was there ever such 6. I wished to have an insolent fellow? 48. He is an ill-designing person.

35. You play indeed 49. Mr. N. grew angry, and has humbled him very much.

50. At last the coxcomb made himself rid-- iculous.

51. And every one laughed at him. (24.)

friend's cousin. | 1. I have been told my friend, that you learn the English language.

What do you think of the English language?

43. He is an empty idle 3. Its pronunciation is very difficult.

I make it my sole study.

I apply myself to it as much as possible.

more time to study.

7. You know I have ents to myself.

8. Which books do you make use of?

rammar.

10. That's a very good one.

11. I translate also the history of Greece

12. That's an excellent will improve.

you will learn used. ort time.

15. Have you learned age. rules?

lar and irregular verbs.

but a few mom- 17. I translate daily excercises out of the Dutch into the English.

9. I have Mr. M. 's g- 18. You have much disposition to learn English very well.

> 19. As to your ceusin, he is not a great proficient in it.

by Goldsmith. 20. He has made no progress at all.

book. 21. The English is ind-13. In that manner you eed a fine language.

14. By dint of studying 22. It is very much

English in a sh- 23. It is at present the universal langu-already any of the 24. It is spoken everywhere.

16. Yes, my friend, and 25. Let us speak nothialso the conjuga- ng but English.

tion of the regu- 26. I am always afraid of making blund-, but six days.

27. You must be confident.

28. I speak better than I can understand learned?

30. It is but a year si- 11. It is a hard blow nce I began.

31. I wonder at it. (25.)

1. There is our friend 13. Two sons and a B.; what good daughter. news will you 14. His daughter is very tell us?

2. Is there any news? ready of age.

that Mr. D. is de- ried. ad?

5. What did he die does he marry?

6. Of a malignant fe- only daughter.

7. He has been bed-rid a great fortune.

ers in speaking. 8. His wife is inconsolable.

9. He was a virtuous and laborious man, worthy of every body's esteem.

29. How long have you 10. The loss is irreparable.

for his family.

12. How many children has he?

agreeable, and al-

Not that I know of. | 15. The eldest son is 4. Don't you know then going to be mar-

16. What young lady of? | 17. Miss B., Mr. L. 's

ver. | 18. She has undoubtedly

- 19. Her father passes, for the richest city.
- 20. He gives her a poundred pounds.
- 21. His future son-in-law 2. I come to pay you deserves it.
- 22. He is a very clever 3. I come to spend an young man.
- 23. He bears a very good 4. I am afraid to be character.
- 24. Miss B. is lively, you. sprightly, and go- 5. Not at all. od humoured.
- 25. She is a good-natured girl.
- 26. She is a perfect beauty.
- 27. She is a deserving young lady.
- 28. It is not for the sake of interest
- 29. He will be happy with such an

- accomplished person.
- merchant of the 30. They are happy on both sides. (26.)
- rtion of many h- 1. Be welcome Miss, how do you do?
 - a visit.
 - hour with you.
 - troublesome

 - 6. You do me a great pleasure.
 - 7. For I am by myself as you see.
 - 8. And I have no occupations.
 - 9. I spend the greater part of my time in reading.
- he marries her. 10. You are then every day poring upon the books.

(27)

- 11. You know that one c- | along with us.
- 12. Let us talk now together.
- 13. I shall tell you some news.
- 14. What then?
- voyage to Germany.
- 16. I wonder at it.
- 17. I can't believe it.
- 19. No, I am in earnest. every moment.
- go?
- 21. With my uncle P. rtnight.
- yourselves very much.
- country.
- 24. And very populous. 36. Your departure gri-
- 25. There are a great eves me much. ures.

- an read too much. 27. I wished the same, but I can't.
 - 28. You know very well that I can't.
 - 29. When will you set out?
- 15. I am going to do a 30. I believe next Saturday
 - 31. How shall I spend the time during your absence?
- 18. You jest, I believe. 32. I will think on you
- 20. With whom will you 33. You must write me a letter every fo-
- 22. You will divert 34. I shall answer the letters exactly.
- 35. They will give me 23. Germany is a fine a great deal of pleasure.

 - many manufact- 37. I will be back in three months.
- 26. I wished you to go 38. That time will be

39. It will seem very all over my body. long to me.

40. I don't like to be my friends, thoua short time. at all.

forget me in that time.

42. My friendship is si-

43. You may depend pulse.

44. It is time to go ry quick.

1. I have sent for you gue.

very tedious to me. | 2. I feel a heaviness

3. I have headake and bellyake.

separated from 4. I am continually squeamish.

gh it be but for 5. I have no appetite

41. I hope you will not 6. Since three days I am very ill.

7. I have not got a wink of sleep all ncere, thus I w- last night.

ill never forget 8. Give me your arm.

you. 9. Let me feel your upon my words. 10. Your pulse beats ve-home, I must ta- 11. You are very feeble.

ke my leave of 12. How many times you. have you had alr-45. I wish you a happy eady the fever.

journey. 13. At least six times.

(27.) | 14. Shew me your ton-

Sir, for I am qu- 15. You must be let bite indisposed. lood.

16. The surgeon must 6. It has given me take a good deal much relief.

17. Here is a prescript- stomach? the apothecary. | something.

18. You must take that 9. I have a longing for potion immediat-

19. I shall come back to-morrow, and sudorific.

you recovery. salutary advice.

1. There is the physi- best.

3. Somewhat better; I 15. You shall be cured have had a good in a few days,

4. Did the purgation abroad.

5. I have had six or seven stools.

of blood from you. 7. Have you no better ion, bring it to S. Yes, I could eat now soup.

110. That's good, but you must not take too much of it.

give you then a 111. You must be very moderate.

20. I must heartily wish 12. I shall follow your (28.) | 13. I advise you for your cian coming. | 14. Now I will give 2. Well, how do you you a potion to do to-day? stop the fever.

night's rest. and able to go work well? | 16. I shall be very much obliged to vou.

1. Have you received Mr. L.?

2. Yes Sir, he mentions among others, his fifteen hogsheads account.

first opportunity.

4. He would have shipped them away tain B. had not

5. Does he mention nothing of the send?

He will give it him as good again.

This refusal was a great insult.

the letter from 9. The commission-trade procures much advantage to Mr. L.

having bought 10. He will grow rich in a short time.

of wine for your 11. And hoard up great treasures.

He will send you 12. He will draw next the same at the week a bill of exchange upon you, to the order of your cousin.

already, but cap- 13. I will pay it when due.

yet a full loading. 14. Do you not go to the exchange today?

thirty bales of 15. No, I have too much coffee which Mr. business on hand.

T. has refused to 16. I will send my book-keeper thither.

Yes, he is very angry. 17. Do you hear nothing of the bankruptey of Mr. N.?

18. The creditors will n-, 28. His son is at prese-

19. It is told that he offers four per 29. Apparently he will

20. No-body will accept of it.

to despair.

22. He says that the 31. He is a deserving loss he has lately sustained, is the 32. Every one admires cause of this misfortune.

23. I willingly believe 33. Mr. A. has recommthat it is not his iour is well kn-

25. One has taken him by his merits. nest man.

26. Some give him ho- serves the esteem aracter.

27. That's mere slander.

ot get a farthing. Int on a voyage to England.

cent. establish himself at Landon.

30. I wish, that all that 21. He gives himself up relates to him may succeed.

young man.

his talents, even his enemies.

ended him to his fault. friends in London.

24. His upright behav- 34. They shall interest themselves for him.

own. 35. He is worthy of it always for an ho- 36. He always performs his duty, and dewever an ill ch- of other people.

37. I wish he shall have more good luck his father.

(33)

me, it is dinnertime.

39. Will you go along dine together?

40. I thank you, I am 10. He has not his maengaged.

41. Farewell! present my 11. Who is the author our family.

42. I shall not fail. (29.)

1. Do you go this ev- 14. And I will go at ening to the play?

2. If time permits it me.

3. You know that I chour of my time. 16. Next Saturday.

4. I am full of busin- 17. On my uncle's biress.

5. What play is to be 18. My cousin's voyage acted?

in commerce than 6. It is a new piece, entitled: the mo-38. I must take my leave dern bancruptcy.

of you; I go ho- 7. Mr. B. will act the principal part.

8. No one can surpass him.

with me, we shall 9. None is able to come near him for that.

tch.

compliments to y- of that piece.

12. Mr. Wieland.

13. Then I shall not fail to go thither.

the first opportunity.

15. Tell me, on what day do you purpan't command an ose going thither?

thday.

will prevent my his absence.

him.

omise.

uch obliged to you for it.

23. You will infinitely 1. What do you intend oblige him.

24. He shall, in his 2. turn, always be ready to do you any service.

25. How long will it 3. be before he comes back?

26. I don't know; he 4. And I attend to my

27. He shall return be- and on sunday. times.

28. I can't stay here work of time.

going thither. 29. I must still pay a 19. I must take care of visit to my aunt.

his affairs during 30. Where does she live?

20. I have promised it 31. In the suburb of St. Germain.

21. I must fulfil my pr- 32. I have her directi-

22. He will be very m- 33. I am your humble servant. (30.) to do to-day?

My daily work; chiefly I must write a great many letters.

You know that we are in the busiest of the year.

will come again business myself.

as soon as he can. 5. I work all the week,

6. Besides this is a any longer. '7. I have also an imp-mbent upon me.

Yesterday we have worked ten hours 20. Every man is apt to without intermission.

That's too long indeed.

10. I was very tired.

11. Some persons are in about nothing.

12. Among others your ntive than I. friend P.

13. Have you cast up my account?

14. I will reckon with you the sooner the better.

15. What does the whole come to?

16. I believe to three

17 That sum is considerable enough.

18. Have you made no 29. I don't know, but blunders?

ortant affair incu-119. Yes; I recollect that I have done wrong.

fail.

21. It is absolutely necessary to do it over again.

22. I would rather you should do it.

a great bustle 23. I leave it to you.

24. You are more atte-

25. That's a mere compliment.

26. It differs fifty dollars, neither more, nor less.

27. Fifty dollars more or less make a considerable difference.

thousand dollars. 28. Has Mr. B. paid already the bill of exchange?

I shall inquire after it.

(35)

30. I am eager to kno- 3. w it.

31. Every one knows 4. that he is well in cash.

32. He has always paid ready money.

33. He takes nothing npon trust.

34. Nobody knows the reason of his not having paid the

35. It is presumed that ent, which they have sent him, |8. was not right.

36. That's not impossible.

(31.)

1. Mr. P.'s ship is ar- 9. rived from Singapore.

2. Captain Bower has 10. He has escaped it done the voyage in eight months. His cargo consists in coffee and sugar.

He has been taken by a privateer of the enemy, and brought up at the Cap-of-Good-Hope.

But he made his 5. escape out of the harbour by means of the night.

6. He let not slip the opportunity.

the account-curr- 7. It was a bold undertaking.

The undertaking could have miscarried, because he hazarded a great deal.

He had been lost, if any misfortune had befallen him.

very narrowly.

- 11. The enemies have inning of the yearall sides.
- 12. They have pushed
- 13. His ship is also the best sailor of the whole town.
- price-current along with vou?
- of yesterday.
- 16. What is the lowest | 25. You must observe price of the coffee?
- 17. Two shillings, but to lower.
- 18. Then we shall lose 27. I spare myself. money.
- 19. We must take our 29. I live very cheap.
- 20. On the contrary we end so high.

- pursued him on 21. Sometimes we win, and sometimes we lose.
- him vigorously. 22. The sugar grows dearer, and that shall turn to our advantage.
- 14. Have you brought a 23. It shall yield us no small profits.
- 24. Our gain shall be 15. Yes, there is that greater than our
 - besides that our expenses do not exceed the gain.
 - the price begins 26. As for me, I live close.
 - a great deal of 28. I am sparing of money.
 - lot as it falls out. 30. I can't afford to sp-
 - have got much m- 31. Every one complaioney in the beg- ns of the hardness of the times.

- 32. Among others that 43. I go home; I have man, who spends beyond his income.
- 33. He is a spendthrift.
- 34. He throws away his money.
- estate.
- 37. When he is come to poverty.
- ery thing.
- 39. He will get himself into trouble.
- 40. He cannot put the fault upon another.
- the cause of his misfortune.
- 42, What can be thus expected from him?

- a friend, who is waiting for me.
- 44. I expect also company.
- 45. But let us be good husbands of our time.
- 35. He wastes his whole 46. Life is short and uncertain.
- 36. He shall suffer for 47. In my young days it one day. I spent always my sparehours in studying.
- 38. When he wants ev- 48. I hate people, who spend their time to no purpose.
 - 49. You know nevertheless that there is a time for all things.
- 41. He will be himself 50. The common saying is:
 - 51. There is a time for weeping, and a time for laughing.

52. A time for talking, name of ngue.

53. You are in the right. (32.)

1. Do you know Mr. N.?

2. Yes, I know him very well.

known him?

ecquainted with tion. him?

6. Where came you 17. That he is grossly acquainted with acquaintances. row wit.

tion.

and a time for 11. He is not very civholding one's to- il, I think.

> 12. That is possible, but there is something to be said for him.

13. For he is a foreigner.

14. He knows not yet 3. How long have you the fashion of the country.

4. More than five years. 15. Some say that he 5. How did you get is of low extrac-

16. That he is ill-bred.

ignorant.

him? 18. That he is not to 7. At London. be trusted.

8. We are already old 19. That he has a nar-

9. But I know his co- 20. They, who speak so, usin only by sig- don't know him.

ht and reputa- 21. I can assure you of the contrary.

10. He goes by the 22. He is very polite to foreigners. for him.

23. He has a great deal 37. You have spoken too

24. He does not want 38. Let us call another wit.

open-hearted.

of taste.

nts.

28. He is a man of ssed with grief.

letters.

30. He is well versed 44. I am of a quite in the sciences. other mind.

31. He is an amiable 45. A pound of care

32. He is very active. ounce of debt.

33. He has modesty and | 46. Conflict destroys hesweetness.

34. You extol him too 47. But what makes him much.

account of him. best friend.

of merit. highly of him.

cause.

25. He is sincere and 39. You know that my uncle is overwhel-26. He has a great deal med with sorrow.

40. He suffers himself 27. He has many tale- to be cast down.

41. His heart is opprelearning. 42. It breaks his heart.

29. He is a man of 43. He is a prey to grief.

and worthy man. | will not pay an alth.

so sad?

35. You give a good 48. The death of his

36. So much the better 49. He soon grows sad.

- 50. There is nothing 63. For all we must that can grieve me.
- 51. I live a merry life.
- 52. It is good to be 1. Well, my friend, you merry and wise.
- 53. I am always in a good humour.
- 54. You are very happy indeed.
- 56. Nevertheless I conform to the time.
- mpany.
- 59. I have accestomed enly with evil.
- 61. It becomes young bad company. SO.
- 62. One grows used to 9. His behaviour per-

- moderate our passions. (33.)
- are not in a good humour.
- 2. No wonder, I am at variance with my brother.
- 55. That is not my case 3. He has treated me with the utmost contempt.
- 57. I conform to the 4. He has never had people of the co- the least esteem for me.
- 58. I am used to do so. 5. He rewards me op-
- myself to it. | 6. He is a great slan-60. And I have broken derer, and offends myself of many me openly.
 - ill habits. 7. He will not avoid
 - gentlemen to do 8. They corrupt good manners.
 - all things. | plexes me much

- 10. It makes me angry my friend.
- 11. I am very angry 24. You are brothers, with him.
- 12. I am offended at well together. his discourse.
- 13. He has provoked me a little too far.
- 15. I am in such a pa- pleased with it. ssion that....
- 16. Softly, be calm.
- 17. You must contain joy.
- 19. Give up the dispute. as a wasp.
- urself within bou- anger. nds.
- 21. I can't contain my- ghtened you by my self. anger.
- people is to be cuse me. derate. easy.

- difference amicably.
- you must agree
- 25. Agree it among yourselves.
- 26. I will reconcile you.
- 14. I am mad with him. 27. I am very much
 - 28. I am overjoyed at it.
 - 29. It will fill me with - yourself. 30. I know now whence 18. Leave off this wra- the quarrel arises.
 - ngling. 31. You were as angry
- 20. You don't keep yo- 32. I have disarmed your
 - 33. I believe I have fri-
- 22. The failing of young | 34. I hope you will ex
 - unable to be mo- 35. You try to make me
- 23. You must settle the 36. I have owned my fault.

37. I must confess that | 1. As often as I see it was a folly.

38. I cannot deny that.

39. I am easier since I have the pleasure 2. to see you.

40. That quarrel was a 3. I am a lover of stab to my peace.

41. Your words pleased 4. I smoke by way of me.

42. I like every thing, 5. Is your clerk alreahope to derive instruction.

43. I shall always love you.

44. Be a sincere friend my to none.

45. You are my bosom 9. He fears sea sicknfriend.

46. I trust you with all 10. And this withheld my secrets.

47. You possess my 11. He did it in obedientire confidence.

(34.)

you, you have the pipe in your mouth.

You are always smoking tobacco.

tobacco.

pastime.

from which I can dy departed for England?

> Yes, he has been gone this hour.

> He went away with reluctance.

to one, and ene- 8. It is for him a long voyage.

ess.

him from it.

ence to me.

12, He follows my orde-

(43)

rs with exactness. 13 He is always ready to obey.

14. In order to deserve my esteem.

15. You have promised 25. I am in great me some books of your library.

16. Here are two, which from among the others.

17. It is difficult to choose in so great

18. I am very fond of reading.

19. Your son is also wtory.

20. As for me, I have a poor memory.

21. I easily forget what 32. You know that I I have learned.

22. I don't succeed in Mr. N. on your my endeavours.

one time or other.

24. I have not too much time to-day; I go to the exchange.

hurry.

26. You seem in great haste.

I have chosen 27. You need not be in such a hurry.

> 28. It is late already; it is exchange time.

a quantity. 29. I want to speak some persons.

30. I must mind my affairs.

ell read in his- 31. If you go out, you will find me at the coffee_house about six.

have spoken to account.

23. You will succeed 33. The whole conver-

you.

34. He spoke frankly to 46. I am going, without me.

35. He spoke plainly upon the subject.

36. He did not speak 1. Dear uncle, how is with ambiguous words.

37. It was a well conn- 2. I am glad to see ected discourse.

39. But what will the things?

40. It is all abroad.

41. I cannot express to 6. Do but speak freely. grieves me.

42. It is easy for them to speak so.

43. One may say with are in the right.

44. I have been told it by several.

sation ran upon | 45. I can say nothing to the contrary.

saying any thing more.

(35.)

it with your health?

you.

38. I told it him flat 3. But my cousin, you and plain. are not in a good humour.

world say of such | 4. What fails you?

5. Has a great misfortune befallen you?

you how much it 7. I cannot get a word out of you, I think.

You don't say a single word.

jnstice that you 9. I will tell it you; my cousin has borrowed of me a considerable sum.

(45)

10. I have lent it him, at the rate of

11. But he pays neither | credit. cipal.

12. Besides he is deep 22. And abandon him in debt.

13. Does he owe so 23. Without meddling much?

14. He is in every body's debt.

15. I wonder at it, he he had discharged poorly off.

16. That he was out of your debt.

17. Don't lent him mo- 28. He is sensible he I forwarn you of 29. Repentance often tr-

18. I fear to lose the me.

19. I assure you that 31. All my desires will all intents and purposes.

five percent. | 20. He has lost his interest nor prin- 21. I will pay all his debts once more.

then to his fate.

any more with him.

24. Credit lost is a glassbroken.

has told me that | 25. Since long he was all his debts. 26. His reputation has suffered.

27. He repents it.

ney any more, has done amiss.

it. eads upon the heels of pleasure.

money he owes 30. He will demean himself better.

he is undone to be accomplished

then.

- 32. It is said that he self to be seduced.
- 33. I know the person, ny with him.
- 34. It is a debauched fellow.
- 35. Who is a stranger to
- urses.
- 37. But he will break 9. I should do a voyawith him for ever.
- 38. Let us speak no (36.)
- 1. Are you here still, I 11. What pleasure would do a voy-
- head?

- Most men are of that opinion.
- has suffered him- 4. It was never my intention.
 - 5. Did you believe it in good earnest?
- who kept compa- 6. Yes; for a credible person has told it me.
 - 7. I assure you that it is an untruth.
- awe and honour. 8. A great voyage does 36. Who follows ill co- not suit to my years.
 - ge, if I was still in the flower of my age.
 - more of it. | 10. And tell me, whither should I go?
 - thought you wo- uld a voyage afford me?
 - age? | 12. All Europe has su-Who put those thou- ffered by the war.
 - ghts into your 13. It is the ruin of many people.

- 14. The belligerent poarmies.
- 15. The emperors of Russia and Austria, with the kings of gland are allies.
- exhausted.
- 17. They will venture been cut to pieces. ing.
- 18. They will hazard all doubtful. berty.
- 19. The nations are optyrant
- 20. He has violated the
- 21. We are all impoverished.
- trade is disappeared.
- 23. We have lost our

- fore-fathers' fame. wers raise great 24. The mail is just arrived, and this letter makes mention of the declaration of war.
- Prussia, and En- 25. There has been already a battle.
- 16. All countries are 26. The report is that the French have
 - however every th- 27. It was in the beginning bloody and
 - they have for li- 28. The allies however have got the victory.
 - pressed by the 29. Great numbers have been killed on both sides.
 - law of nations. | 30. It was not a skirmish but a general action.
- 22. The prosperity of 31. The sixth regiment of the foot-guard has suffered a great deal.

- 33. They made a false attack, which put | 43. Tey have the enemies in disorder.
- all their cannon.
- 35. The allies had made great retrenchments.
- 36. They had raised two batteries with great guns.
- 37. General B. commanded the rightwing.
- 38. He is perfectly leaof war.
- 39. He is a great warrior.
- 40. He has done great 48. They have maintaiachievements.
- 41. His intrepidity is well known.
- 42. At the end of the 1 battle there were six thousand killed and four thousand wounded.

- made ten thousand prisomers.
- 34. They have spiked 44. Your friend, Captain S. is of the number of the prisoners.
 - 45. Colonel Boot has been killed by a musketball.
 - 46. The Duke of D., who commanded the army in chief, has been slightly wounded.
 - rned in the art 47. The enemies have lost all their artillery.
 - ned a running fight.

(37.)

The allies are now laying siege to (46)

Mentz.

- The town is wholly invested.
- It is one of the strongest places in 13. Germany.
- 4. The garrison is very numerous.
- 5. They make from 14. If they attack the time to time very advantageous sallies.
- 6. Once they have destroyed the besiegers' works.
- 7. But two new battein three days.
- place by storm, and put the gaword.
- They intend to give no quarter.
- 10. That is the law of the war.

- 11. They will let the town be plundered.
- 12. The place defends itself very well.
- The enemies are marching to the assistance of the place.
- besiegers, they shall be repulsed.
- It is said that the garrison has capitulated.
- 16. The allies are masters of the town.
- ries were raised 17. It has cost them abundance of men.
- They will take the 18. Have the garrison been made prisoners of war?
 - rrison to the s- 19. Certainly; but it is permitted to march out of the town, drum beating matches lighted and colours flying.

(50)

nourable terms granted them.

21. The English have 27. And sunk six. cent.

transported with hundred fifty ships.

23. They have already dis-embarked their cavalry.

a seafight.

25. The whole fleet of been ruined.

20. They have had ho- 26. We have taken ten of their men of war.

made also a des- 28. They talk of a secret expedition.

22. Their troops are 29. To the United States of North America.

30. It is very likely that we shall have peace this summer.

24. There has been also 31. They will put an end to all the hostilities.

the enemies has 32. I hope so with all my heart.

THE END.

