

Handwritten text on the right edge of the page, possibly a title or page number.

Main body of handwritten Japanese text, written in cursive style, occupying the right two-thirds of the page.

Handwritten text on the left side of the page, including a signature and possibly a date or location.

