

春典

Handwritten text in vertical columns, likely a list of names or entries related to the 'Spring Dictionary' (春典). The text is dense and covers most of the page.

Handwritten text in vertical columns, continuing the list or providing additional details. The text is organized into several columns and includes various characters and symbols.

