

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a form of Chinese calligraphy, arranged in several vertical columns. The characters are fluid and interconnected.

Small red seal or signature characters located near the pine tree painting.

