

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, written on a strip of paper mounted on a larger sheet. The text is arranged in a single horizontal line and is highly stylized and fluid. The characters are dark ink on a light background. The text appears to be a continuous passage, possibly a poem or a piece of prose, written in a highly expressive and personal hand. The characters are densely packed and flow together, with some larger characters and some smaller ones, indicating a dynamic rhythm. The overall appearance is that of a traditional Japanese calligraphic work.
