Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, arranged in vertical columns from right to left. The text is written on a strip of paper with a gold-leaf border. The characters are fluid and connected, typical of the cursive style. The text appears to be a form of calligraphy or a personal note, possibly related to a historical document or a specific event, given the context of the gold-leaf border.

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, written on a strip of paper pasted onto a gold-leaf background. The text is arranged in approximately 15 vertical columns, reading from right to left. The characters are highly stylized and fluid, characteristic of the cursive script. The paper strip shows signs of age and wear, with some fading and slight discoloration. The gold-leaf background is a textured, shimmering yellow-gold color.
