

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a signature or name, written vertically on a yellowish strip of paper. The characters are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and some ink bleed-through from the reverse side.

