Handwritten text on the left side of the page, oriented vertically. The characters are in a cursive script, possibly representing a name or a signature.

Main body of handwritten text in the center of the page, oriented horizontally. The text is written in a cursive script and appears to be a continuous line of writing, possibly a signature or a name.

Handwritten text on the right side of the page, oriented vertically. The characters are in a cursive script, possibly representing a name or a signature.

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy in cursive style (sōsho). The text is arranged in vertical columns from right to left. The characters are highly stylized and fluid, typical of the cursive script. The main body of text includes characters such as 山 (mountain), 谷 (valley), 川 (river), and 舟 (boat), suggesting a landscape or travel theme. There are also some smaller characters and a circular seal-like mark.

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy in cursive style (sōsho). This section contains fewer characters, appearing as a continuation or a separate line of text. The characters are also highly stylized and fluid, consistent with the main body of text.
