Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, possibly a signature or a specific note, written in a similar cursive script.

Handwritten text on the left edge of the page, partially cut off.

Handwritten text in the first column of the main body, starting with a large character that resembles '心' (heart/mind).

Handwritten text in the second column of the main body, continuing the calligraphic style with various characters and strokes.

Handwritten text on a separate strip of paper, possibly a title or a specific note.

Handwritten text on a strip of paper, possibly a title or a specific note.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of multiple lines of cursive script.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written on a single sheet of paper and is oriented vertically. The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of 18th-century cursive. The text is written in dark ink on a light-colored paper. The first line is partially cut off at the top. The text appears to be a formal letter or a document of some importance, given the use of a large initial 'D' and the overall structure of the writing.

Handwritten text in a bold, stylized script, possibly a signature or a heading. The text is written in dark ink on a light-colored paper. The script is very decorative and appears to be a form of calligraphy or a highly stylized cursive. The text is oriented vertically and is the most prominent feature on the page.
