Handwritten text in the right column, continuing the cursive script.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a transcription of the scene or a related narrative. The text is written in a dense, flowing style across the right page.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is written in a dense, flowing hand across two pages. The script is characteristic of the late Gothic or early modern period. The text is arranged in approximately 25 lines per page. The ink is dark, and the parchment shows signs of age and wear. The text appears to be a continuous narrative or a list of entries, though the specific content is difficult to decipher due to the cursive style. There are some larger initials or decorative elements interspersed throughout the text.
