

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive style (sōsho) on a document with a red border. The text is arranged in vertical columns, reading from right to left. The characters are fluid and connected. There are two red square seals: one at the top right and another at the bottom right. A small red stamp with the number '114' and 'A 263 26' is located in the upper right corner. The paper shows signs of age and wear.
