

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy in cursive style (sōsho). The text is dense and spans the width of the paper. The characters are dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The writing is highly fluid and interconnected, characteristic of the cursive style. The text appears to be a personal letter or a record of a conversation, with some characters being larger and more prominent than others. The overall impression is one of a well-practiced and expressive calligrapher.

15
易
序
2

