Tosca, July 18th 1874.

My dear Mr. Strai,

I gave you a bill of expenses the other day, and General Le Genore has just told me that he cares about recovering nothing but what he has vouchers for; therefore I send you these vouchers, which are the only ones we have.

Could you send me back the accounts of Dr. Manson, as General Le Genore is wishing to reply to the gentleman and he has not yet seen the his papers that you still have.

There will be a steamer for Hongkong on the 20th. and General Le Genore wants to pack up everything and get ready to leave tomorrow, and he told me to inform you that he has not yet received the presents that were purchased by the Guainusho's dispensing office. Will you please have them sent as soon as possible?

If convenient to Mr. Okuma, General Le Genore would like to see him tomorrow morning. Will you please ascertain if it will be convenient?

General Le Genore regrets very much that he was too sick the other day to see the interpreter whom Mr. Okuma sent to him; but if the gentleman would take the trouble to come tomorrow about twelve o'clock, the General would be happy to make his acquaintance and make arrangements with him for a speedy departure by P. M. Steamer.

Mr. House has just arrived at Nagasaki, but the General does not know in what way. Have you for any news?

Yours very truly

J. Davids Jr.
