

World,

New York.

I hope American Fleet now enroute to Pacific will visit Japan. I have no doubt that Japanese people will accord hearty welcome to those splendid ships of their friendly neighbor, and that such visit will materially strengthen relations of good understanding between two nations and will remove source of all sensational talks in America.

Okuma.

