

Handwritten Chinese calligraphy in cursive script (草书). The text is arranged in two vertical columns. The right column contains characters that are partially obscured by the left column's characters. The left column contains characters that are also partially obscured. The characters are written in dark ink on a light-colored paper.

文
押
子
子
子

特 別

又4

4899

31