

Handwritten Japanese text in cursive (sōsho) style, arranged in vertical columns from right to left. The text is written on a rectangular piece of paper pasted onto a larger page. The characters are fluid and connected, typical of the cursive style. The paper shows signs of age, including water stains and discoloration. A color calibration strip is visible at the top of the page, and a ruler is at the bottom.

Handwritten text on a small rectangular slip of paper, oriented vertically. The text is written in a cursive script and appears to be a list or a set of notes. The characters are dark and somewhat faded, but some words are discernible, such as "W. B. M." at the top and "1857" at the bottom. The slip is pasted onto the main page of the book.

Faint, illegible handwritten text, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is very light and difficult to read, but appears to be organized into several lines or paragraphs.