A woman in a green kimono is pushing a wooden cart pulled by a cow. The cart has a large wheel and is moving across the open market area.

Two men are walking towards the right. The man in front is wearing a blue robe and has a sword tucked under his arm. The man behind him is wearing a green robe and also has a sword. They appear to be in a hurry or engaged in a conversation.

A group of people is gathered around a stall. A woman in a red kimono is handing something to a man in a grey robe. There are several wooden barrels and baskets in the scene, suggesting a food or goods market.

A decorative arrangement featuring a large, round, woven basket filled with red flowers or berries. The basket is placed on a stand, and the scene is partially covered by a yellow umbrella.

A stall on the right side of the scene, displaying various goods in wooden trays. A man in a green robe is standing behind the stall, and another person is visible in the background.

A woman in a red and white kimono is walking on the far left side of the scene, carrying a bundle on her back.

A man in a blue robe is kneeling on the ground, possibly in a gesture of respect or prayer. He is looking towards the center of the scene.

A woman in a green kimono is walking towards the center, carrying a bundle on her back and holding a walking stick.

A small child in a red kimono is walking towards the center of the scene.

A group of people is gathered around a table in the foreground. Some are sitting and eating, while others are standing. There are several bowls and a large pot on the table, suggesting a food stall or a place where people are resting.

A large, yellow, circular umbrella is positioned in the foreground, providing shade for the people nearby.

Two women in colorful kimonos are walking towards the center of the scene. One is wearing a red and white kimono, and the other is wearing a blue and white kimono.

A large, rectangular structure, possibly a stall or a building, is on the right side of the scene. It has a lattice-like pattern on its side. Several people are gathered around it, and a dog is visible in the foreground.
