

Handwritten Japanese calligraphy in four vertical columns, enclosed in a red decorative border. The text is written in a cursive style (sōsho). The characters are:
Column 1 (left): 柳 (Yanagi) - Willow
Column 2: 花 (Hana) - Flower
Column 3: 心 (Kokoro) - Heart
Column 4 (right): 花 (Hana) - Flower

Handwritten text in Devanagari script, likely a musical score or manuscript, written on aged, torn paper. The text is arranged in three lines, with some characters appearing to be musical notes or symbols. The first line contains the characters 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि'. The second line contains 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि'. The third line contains 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि', 'मि'. There are also some faint red markings and lines on the paper, possibly indicating musical notation or a specific format.
